

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS

WILLIAM,

THIS

GRAMMAR

Is humbly Dedicated,

By his ROYAL HIGHNESS'S

Most Faithful, and

Most Obedient Servant,

Jenkin Thomas Philipps

A N
E S S A Y
Towards an UNIVERSAL and RATIONAL
GRAMMAR.

Grammar is a Word borrow'd from the Greek, which in English may be translated Literature; and hence Grammarians were formerly call'd by the Latins, Literatores, because they employ'd their Time and Labour in duly considering the Use and Properties of Letters and Syllables, which are the Marks or Signs of the several Sounds that we make Use of, to express our Notions or Ideas to one another, in Words, Sentences and Discourses.

History, Poetry, and Rhetorick, are much more ancient with most Nations, than Grammar, (consider'd as an Art) which is the true Reason of so many Irregularities in all Grammars, and Exceptions from general Rules, because that Art was suited to Language, and not Language form'd according to Art by Philosophers and wise Men; but all Tongues had their Birth among the ignorant People, and Use gave the Stamp of Authority to the most irregular Expressions, and therefore 'twas not in the Power of any Mortal, however learn'd, to reduce them to any Rules without innumerable Exceptions; whereas, if a Language was made by learned Men, according to Bishop Wilkins's Directions in his Treatise of an universal Character, the Rules of Grammar would be as little liable to Exceptions, as those of Arithmetick.

There are many Languages not reduced to any Rules of Grammar to this Day; and before Mr. Alex. Gill, Ben. Jabnson, and Doct. Wallis, few undertook any Thing of this Nature for the English Tongue; and one may almost dare to affirm the same of the German and other Languages of Europe; and indeed it is a difficult Task to confine a living Language to Fetters and Chains, which will assert its Liberty in Spight of Criticks and Grammarians.

The Romans knew nothing of its Critical Niceties, till Crates Malotes Ambassador from Attalus King of Pergamus, 583 Years after the Foundation of Rome, taught it there, as Suetonius informs us in his Book of the Life of famous Grammarians: Ever since that Time the Latin Tongue has been disfigur'd by Thousands of ignorant Grammarians, copying one another's Blunders, which lead the Learners into inevitable Mistakes, by having more Regard to the obscure Rules of Pedagogues, than to the diligent Reading and Imitation of Latin Authors, who wrote before the Tyranny of Grammar came to be so much in Vogue: And I am inclin'd to believe that those dull Grammarians contributed puted as much, if not more, to the Monkish Stile of subsequent Times, than the barbarous Nations of the Goths and Vandals; for, to write Latin by uncertain, and often false, Rules, and Words pick'd out of Dictionaries, is to build by a false Square, which cannot but make a very irregular Structure; so that we had no judicious System of Rules for learning Latin, till Sanctius a Spaniard printed his Commentary on the Latin Tongue, at Madrid 1560, who discover'd the many Mistakes of the ancient Grammarians: Then followed Gaspar Scioppius, and others, very excellent in their Kind, but of no Use to Children and Beginners, because written in Latin; for to teach Latin by Latin Rules, is to explain one Obscurity by another, and therefore very ridiculous in itself, and not to be suffer'd by any People, but among those who would have us submit not only to a National Grammar, but likewise to National Prayers, in an unknown Tongue: As Mr. Johnson in his Grammar Commentaries shews at large, and as I have myself formerly observ'd in a Treatise call'd, A compendious Way for teaching the Learned Languages.

Of the PARTS of GRAMMAR.

The Precepts of Grammar may be divided into four Heads, whereof the first teaches the true Spelling, and the Use of Stops in Reading, which is not only to give a proper Time for Breathing, but to avoid Obscurity and Confusion of the Sense, in the joining of Words together in a Sentence: This Part of Grammar is call'd Orthography, which treats likewise of other Marks in Writing and Abbreviation of Words, which are commonly taught in all English Schools, and are supposed to be known. The second Part considers the Gr. A City is one Kind of Thing, London is one of that Kind, distinguish'd from Paris another, Rome another.

N. B. If twenty Men were together, and all named Peter, no Business could be done till you gave each a more distinguishing Name, which distinguishing Word would become the Proper Name in that Case; as, little Peter, great Peter: in which Case little and great would become Proper Names.

Observe, Though there be but one Sun, yet it is not therefore a Proper Name, but a Common or universal Noun, because it is one Kind of Thing distinct from all others. And on the contrary, though there be many call'd Peter, yet it is not therefore a Common or Appellative Noun, because it does not signify any one Kind of Thing, being nothing else but a mere Sound, whereby one individual Thing is known, and distinguish'd from others of the same Kind.

Observe, Persons have usually two Proper Names, the former call'd the Name, and the latter the Surname, or the proper Name of the Family; as, Martin Luther: Some have three or more Proper Names; as, Julius Cæsar Scaliger.

Observe, Proper Names as such, cannot be translated from one Language to another; for if the Sound be chang'd, the Proper Name is lost: Yet the Latins, to accommodate Foreign Proper Names to their own Idiom, do often add to them a Latin Termination; as, us, a, um: and Foreigners for the same Reason, do usually cut off the Latin Termination from Latin Proper Names. Thus we say in English, Mark, Rome, London, in Latin, Marcus, Roma, Londinum.

Of NUMBER.

Substantives, in Respect of Number, are distinguish'd into Singular and Plural.

A Substantive of the Singular Number denotes one Thing; as, a Book; A Substantive of the Plural Number is that which denotes more than one; as, Books. In English and French the Plural Number is usually made by adding S to the Singular; as, a Stone, a School, in the Plural Stones, Schools; la Main, a Hand, les Mains, Hands. Proper Names have no Plural Number, because restrain'd to signify one Thing, unless in a Metaphore; as, These are our Cæsars and Alexanders; that is, Men not inferiour to Cæsar and Alexander in heroick Actions and military Prudence.

There are several Common Names, never used in the Plural, not only in the Latin, but also in the English; as, Honey, Wax, Butter, Gold, Silver: Some never used in the Singular; as, Bellows, Goods, Bowels, Snuffers, Scissors; but it happens very often, that a Word that wants the Singular or Plural in one Language, has it regularly in another.

Of the Declining of a Noun.

The Declining of a Noun is the Variation of its Endings, according to the various State or Case of the Thing signify'd by it.

In Latin Grammar every Noun or Name of a Thing is consider'd in a sixfold State or Case, to express so many different relative Ideas, which, if every one of them had a separate Word to express it, there would be six Times as many Words for the Nouns or Name

Names of Things, and almost two hundred Times as many Words would be necessary, to express all the circumstantial Ideas of Words or Actions, which would make the Learning of a Language impracticable: Therefore this Invention of Cases and Conjugations is like short Hand, where the same Letter with a little Variation in the Ending doth signify several Things; These different States or Cases or Relations are call'd the Nominative, the Vocative, the Genitive, the Dative, the Accusative, and the Ablative.

A Noun is in the Nominative State or Case, when it only names the Agent that comes before the Verb or the Word signifying an Action; as, the Master reads: Here I know Master is the Naming or Nominative Case, because it is the Agent or Thing that reads, and comes in good Sense before the Verb reads.

A Noun is in the Calling or Vocative Case when it is a Person or Thing to whom we speak, or call; as, O Master, I will obey: Here I know, Master is in the Vocative Case, because it is the Person to whom I speak or call.

A Noun is in the Genitive Case when it is the Possessor of some other Thing possessed, and therefore is more properly call'd the Case Possessive; as, the Master's Book, or the Book of the Master: Here I know that Master is in the Genitive Case, because it is the Substantive of the Possessor, and Book the Substantive possessed, for there can be no Possessor without something possessed, in Latin Liber Magistri, the Book of the Master: In English the Genitive is known by the Sign Of.

A Noun is in the Dative or Giving Case, when it is the Thing, to which any other Thing is applied or given.

In English the Particle to or for comes usually before the Dative; as, this Book is profitable to the Master.

A Noun is in the Accusative Case when it is the Object of Action, or the Thing into which the Action passes, more properly call'd the Patient or Passive Case; and then it usually comes after a Verb of an active Signification; I love the King: I know Rex (in this Sentence) is in the Accusative or Passive Case, because it is the Object of my Action, or the Thing I love, and comes after the Verb Active love.

A Noun is said to be in the Ablative Case, when it comes after any of these Particles, With, from, in, or by; as, I will go with the Master, I come from the Master: It serves to express several Relations or Circumstances of Things that are not made out by the other Cases, as separating or taking away one Thing from another, which is denoted by the Word Ablative, and so far very properly call'd Ablative: But when the same Cases, or Latin Endings are made Use of to denote the joining Things together, and other Circumstances and Positions, the Word Ablative is an imperfect and improper Term, and it might as well be call'd in general the Relative Case.

N. B. It is to comply with the Genius of the Greek and Latin we speak of Cases; for the Northern Languages don't vary the Endings of Words, but make Use of preceding Particles, as in the English of, to, &c. to express the Relations of Things. But in Latin, if you would express a Word in its various Relations, you give it different Endings or Cases, according to five different Forms, which are call'd by the Grammarians the five Declensions; as, Musa, a Song; Musæ, of a Song, &c. Magister, Master; Magistri of a Master, &c. Lapis, a Stone; Lapidis, of a Stone. Manus, a Hand; Manus, of a Hand. Dies, a Day; Diei, of a Day.

The Substantive Father declin'd.

Nom. Sing. a Father; Voc. O Father; Gen. of a Father, or a Father's; Dat. to a Father; Acc. a Father; Abl. with, from, in, or by a Father.

Nom. Plural. Fathers; Voc. O Fathers; Gen. of Fathers; Dat. to Fathers; Acc. Fathers; Abl. with, from, in, or by Fathers.

In English Substantives are thus regularly declin'd in both Numbers, and in other Languages agreeably to their Genius respectively.

Of the G E N D E R S of N O U N S.

Gender in the Greek and Latin Languages is a technical Term or Word of Art, signifying the Joining the Names of a Quality or Adjective with that Termination or Ending which the Nature of the Substantive requires in the Greek and Latin; (for the English is not embarrass'd with it;) thus if the Word denotes a Person of the Male Kind, or any Thing consider'd as such, it requires the Adjective to be join'd with it in a Male Habit, call'd the Masculine Termination; as for Example, if I would express a good Horse in Latin, I must say, bonus Equus; but if I would say, a good Mare, I must say bona Equa, which is the Female Ending; but when the Substantive is neither Male nor Female, that is of no Gender at all, it requires that the Adjective should be join'd to it in another Ending different from the two foregoing, and therefore call'd the Neuter Gender or Ending; as, bonum Regnum: Whereas in English, without any of these Niceties, we properly say, a good Horse, a good Mare, a good Kingdom; no Change being made in the Termination of the Word dedenoting the Quality or Adjective: But that which makes the Doctrine of Genders yet more perplex'd in Latin and some other Languages, is, that a Word that is neither Male or Female, yet by the Caprice of Use and Custom, is to be join'd with a Male or Female Garb or Ending in the Adjective; as, bonus Liber, a good Book; bona Navis, a good Ship; where Liber and Navis are neither Male nor Female, only that we conceive them as if they were Males and Females, without any reason in Nature for so doing, and hence it is that the same Word is conceiv'd as a Male by one Author, and as a Female by another, which Sort of Words are said to be of the Common Gender.

There are some Adjectives that have two Endings only, whereof one fits both the Word denoting the Male and the Female; as, tristis Dominus, a sad Lord; tristis Domina, a sad Lady; and triste Regnum, a sad Kingdom; and some of them are so complaisant as to conform themselves to all Sorts of Words with one Termination, in Latin as well as in English; viz. felix Dominus, felix Domina, felix Regnum; at least in some Cases, for in other Cases they require two Endings; as, felicem, to be join'd with Words of the Male and Female Kind, and felix with Words of the Neuter, when coming after a Word signifying an Action: But to have a clear Notion what an Adjective is, it may be defined thus;

An Adjective is a Word that signifies the Manner or Quality of a Thing, and may in good Sense be declin'd with a Substantive, and without a Substantive cannot be understood; as the Words Wise, foolish, white, black; I know the Word wise is an Adjective: First, Because it is the Manner or Quality of a Thing: Secondly, Because I can decline it in good Sense with a Substantive; as, a wise Man; of a wise Man; to a wise Man; with a wise Man: But in this Sentence, I have white it is not Sense, unless I add some Substantive; as, white Paper, white Bread, white Linnen, white Hands, &c.

Adjectives in English receive no Alteration either as to Number or Case, but when they are put substantively, they admit S, to make them Plural; as, Secrets, for the Plural of a Secret.

Of the Comparing of ADJECTIVES.

Because one Magnitude is bigger or lesser than another, Adjectives are distinguish'd into Comparable and Incomparable.

A Comparable or Compositive Adjective, is that which in good Sense admits before it the Particles more, most, or very; as, bard, more bard, or barder, most bard, or bardest. I know bard is a Comparable Adjective, because I can say in good Sense, more bard, most bard, very bard.

An Incomparable Adjective is that which can't in good Sense admit before it the Particles, more, most, or very; as, all, some, any.

I know all is an Incomparable Adjective, because I can't say in good Sense, more all, most all, very all, &c.

Some Adjectives are irregularly compar'd in English and Latin; as, good, better, best; bad or ill, worse, worst; little, less, least; much, more, most.

The Latin and other Languages have their different Ways of forming the Comparative and Superlative Degrees.

Of a V E R B.

A Verb is a Word that signifies the Action, Passion, or Being of a Thing; and may be conjugated or have its Endings chang'd in good Sense with a Substantive of the Nominative Case before it, and without a Nominative Case cannot make Sense; as the Words, run, read, teach, &c. I know the Word read is a Verb, because it signifies the Action of a Thing, and can be conjugated in good Sense with a Nominative before it; thus, I read, thou readest, he readeth, we read, ye read, they read.

Or a Verb (by Grammarians so call'd) is a Word made Use of when we affirm one Thing of another; as when I say, a Man is rational; the Faculty of Reasoning is attributed to, or affirm'd of Man; I write, is the same as, I am Writing, where an Affirmation is imply'd: Or 'tis the Denying one Thing of another; as, John is not strong, where Strength is deny'd to belong to John; here the Attribute is affirm'd or separated from the Subject by the Help of the copulative Word am in its several Terminations or Endings.

Verbs, as to their Signification, are distinguish'd into Active, Passive, and Neuter. A Verb Active is that which denotes the Acting or Doing of its Subject or Nominative Case, and may in good Sense have after it the Accusative Case of its Object or Thing it acts upon, as the Verb Call is Active, because I can say in good Sense, I call thee, I call him, I call her.

A Verb Active, in Respect of its Object or Accusative Case, is distinguish'd into Transitive, or when the Action passes into another Subject; or Intransitive, when the Action doth remain in the Agent.

A Verb Active Transitive is that which in good Sense admits many Accusatives; as the Verb Active Call, for I can say in good Sense, I call him, I call Peter, I call John, &c.

A Verb Active Intransitive is that which in good Sense admits only one Accusative Case, and that of its own Signification, or when the Action does not pass into another Subject; as, the Verbs run, go, live, &c. I can say in good Sense, I run a Race, I go a Journey, I live a Life; because these are Accusatives of their own Signification, and the Action remains in the Agent: But if I say, I go a Man, I live a House, it is Nonsense, because these are not Accusatives of their own Signification, neither doth the Action go from the Agent into another Subject.

Every Verb that in English admits before it the Auxiliar or Helping-Words do, or did, in good Sense, is a Verb Active, Transitive, or Intransitive; as, I do die, I do grow, I do sit, &c.

A Verb Passive is that which denotes the Passion or Suffering of its Subject or Nominative, nor can it in good Sense admit of an Accusative Case after it; as, I am read, I am called: In English the Verb Passive is always express'd by two Words, the Verb am, and the Participle of the Present-Tense, if either of these be wanting, it is not Passive.

A Verb Neuter is that which neither denotes the Action or Passion of its Subject or Nominative Case, but only its Being or Existence; and in good Sense it admits after it a Nominative Case, as the Verb am: I can say in good Sense, I am he, not, I am him, &c.

Of the Conjugation, or the Variation of the Endings of the V E R B.

The Conjugating of a Verb is the Variation thereof, according to its various Nominatives or Persons, and various Difference of Time or Tense, according to four different Forms in the Latin, and according to more or less Forms in other Languages, for the Arabs have no less than 13 Conjugations.

Nominatives, as they come before Verbs, are distinguish'd into three Sorts, call'd by Grammarians Persons, which are three in the Singular, and as many in the Plural; which are the Words, I, Thou, He, with their Plurals, We, You, They, made Use of to prevent the Repeating often the same Words; as, I, saves the Trouble of naming myself, or the Person speaking; Thou and You are Proxys for the Name of him or them that are spoken to: But He, and They, represent all Names in general that are absent, or consider'd as such, and spoken of, and may be call'd Attorneys general, which supply the Place of any Person or Persons, Thing or Things that are spoken of.

A Verb is said to be of the first Person Singular, that may in good Sense be joyn'd with the Person speaking, or with its Substitute of the first Person Singular, I; as, I teach; not, I teachest, because teachest is not a Verb of the first Person Singular.

That Verb is of the second Person Singular which can be join'd to the Person spoken to, or to thou its Representative; as, thou teachest; not, thou teach; or thou teacheth: And so of the rest.

The Moods or Modes of Verbs are Terms of Art, to shew in what Manner the Predicate or Attribute is join'd with its Subject, which are the Indic. Imperat.

Optat. Potential. Subjunct. and Infin. The Indicative when the Matter is simply declared to be so and so; as, I teach, or am teaching; thou teachest, or art teaching; or when it is in the Speaker's Power to have it be so, which Manner or Mode of Speaking is call'd the Imperative Mood, and when it is neither declar'd to be so, nor seems to be immediately in the Speaker's Power to have it so; then he can do no more but make out the Expression of his Will by the Particles, Would to God. May, might, if, denote either the Possibility of the Attribute to be join'd to the Subject, or the Desire of the Person speaking; as, Would to God I did love; or, I can, may, or would love; and these Manners of Speaking are commonly call'd Optative, Potential, or Subjunctive, because subjoin'd in the Latin to some Particles that modify or shew that the Attribute is not join'd to, or separated from the Subject absolutely and necessarily, but only possibly and conditionally. What Grammarians call the Infinitive is an impersonal Verb, or rather a Noun Substantive indeclinable and indeterminate.

Of the different Times or Tenses of a V E R B.

There are five Tenses or Times; the Present, Imperfect, Perfect, Pluperfect, and Future.

The Present Tense shews that something is now adoin; as, I do write; or, am writing a Letter, is the same as, I do now write, or am now writing.

The Imperfect, or Preterimperfect Tense, shews that something was then adoin, or present at that Time which we speak of; as, I was writing my Letter when your Messenger came to me.

The

The Perfect or Preterperfect Tense is that which shews that something is already done and past; as, I have written my Letter, without Regard being had to any other Action.

The Pluperfect, or Preterpluperfect is that which shews that something had been done before another Thing that was done and past; as, I had written my Letter an Hour before your Messenger came unto me.

The Future Tense is that which shews that something is to come; as, I shall write my Letter to morrow Morning.

Of a PARTICIPLE.

That Part of Speech call'd by Grammarians a Participle, because it has Cases like a Noun Substantive, and signifies Time as a Verb; is no more indeed than an Adjective, or Name of Quality, and therefore we shall speak no more of it in this Place: The same may be said of Gerunds; and Supines are but Nouns Substantives of the fourth Declension: For the same Reason we made no Mention in this Discourse of Pronouns, because they are properly all either Substantives, or Adjectives.

Of a PARTICLE.

A Particle is a Word that signifies some Manner, Circumstance or Connexion of Words and Sentences, and can neither be declin'd nor conjugated in good Sense; as the Words, wisely, foolishly, with, as, &c. I know the Word wisely is a Particle, because it signifies the Manner of an Action; as, I speak wisely: and because I can neither decline nor conjugate it in good Sense; and so of all others.

Particles are of three Sorts; Adverbs, Prepositions, and Conjunctions.

An Adverb is a Particle that denotes the Manner or Quality of an Action, and with one Verb makes compleat Sense; as, swiftly, slowly, merrily, sadly, &c. I know swiftly is an Adverb, because it compleats the Sense with one Verb; as in these Sentences, A Horse runs swiftly; a Fool speaks foolishly; a good Scholar reads diligently.

A Preposition is a Particle that denotes some Circumstance of an Action, and cannot make compleat Sense with one Verb without some oblique Case after it; as the Prepositions, of, to, with, from, against: Here I know the Particle of is a Preposition, because I cannot say in compleat Sense, I spoke of, but I spoke of him; not I spoke of he, because he is not an oblique Case, but the Nominative, with which no Preposition can make Sense: So, with me, not, with I; from thee, not, from thou, &c.

Observe, The Nominative and Vocative are called direct Cases, all the rest are call'd oblique, or relative, as having a Relation to something else.

A Conjunction is a Particle that denotes the Connexion of two Verbs, or (which is the same) of two Sentences together, and cannot with one Verb compleat the Sense, but leaves the Hearer in Suspence, till another Sentence be added; as the Particles, when, whilst, if, as, that, &c. as in these Sentences, When I was sick; If I live well; As I came home; That I may read, &c. where the Sense remains imperfect, and leaves the Mind in Suspence, till another Sentence be added; as, when I was sick, I sent for a Physician; As I came home, I met my Master; I will go to my Chamber, that I may read; If I live well, I shall die happily.

Ob-

Observe, Oftentimes the same Word is of different Parts of Speech; according to its different Signification, which must be distinguish'd by the Sense of the Sentence in which it is; as the Words, Love, Work, Ring, Sound, in these following Sentences: True Love is very rare; I love all good Men; I work a good Work; I lost a Ring; I'll ring the Bell; I'll sound an Alarm; I hear the Sound of the Trumpet; He is a Man of a sound Judgment.

Observe, There are some Words that are Abbreviations of several Words in some one Case; as, when, then, where, there, here, whither, hither, thither, whence, thence, hence, now, &c. When signifies at which Time, or at what Time; then at that Time, where, in which Place, or at what Place; there, in that Place; here, in this Place; whither, to what Place; hither, to this Place; thither, to that Place; whence, from what Place; thence, from that Place; hence, from this Place; now, at this Time, &c. They are commonly call'd Adverbs of Time or Place; but most Adverbs are derived of Adjectives, and in English they are usually form'd by adding the Termination [ly] to the Adjective; as, hard, hardly; meek, meekly, &c.

A Word that is not deriv'd of another is call'd a Primitive Word; a Word that is deriv'd of another, is call'd a Derivative.

A Word that is not compos'd of two Words, is call'd a Simple Word; a Word that is compos'd of two or more Words is call'd a compounded Word.

A Word of one Syllable is call'd a Monosyllable, a Word of two Syllables, is call'd a Disyllable. Any Word of more than two Syllables is call'd a Poly-syllable.

Interjections are only Signs of some sudden Passion; as, of Joy or Grief, Pain or Pleasure, Indignation or Admiration, or the like; and ought not to be reckon'd among the articulate Sounds of any Tongue, as being the same in all Languages, and also common to Brutes with Men; as, ba, bu, bu; O, bo, &c.

Of SYNTAX, or Joining Words in Sentences.

Of Syntax there are two Sorts: viz. Agreement; as that between the Nominative Case and the Verb, in Person; also that between the Substantive and the Adjective, in Case, Gender, and Number: And Govern-ment, or the Power that one Word hath to change the State, Ending or Case of another Word; as, The Crown of England, Corona Angliæ.

All the Rules of the Latin Syntax may be reduc'd to these twelve fundamental Maxims,

1. Every Sentence consists of a Noun and a Verb; wherefore, if the Verb be not express'd, it must be understood; as, Dis meliora, where the Verb faciant is understood.

2. Every Verb of a finite Nature hath before it a Nominative express'd or understood; as, Amavi te, where Ego is understood; in Aliunt, Ferunt, Homines is understood.

3. Every Verb of an Active Signification hath after it an Accusative Case express'd or understood; as, Deum colo, I worship God; Vivit, he liveth; where Vitam is understood.

4. As often as the Infinitive Mood comes by itself in a Sentence, there must be a Verb understood on which it depends; as, Ego illud sedulo negare factum, where cæpi is to be supply'd.

5. Every Adjective hath its Substantive express'd or understood; as, Patria, where Terra is to be understood; Triste Lupus stabulis, where Animal is understood.

6. Every

6. Every Relative rehearseth after it its antecedent Substantive; with which rehearsed Substantive it agreeth in Number, Case and Termination of Gender: Wherefore an Ellipsis is suppos'd, as often as the Substantive which ought to go before the Relative, and to follow it, either only goes before it, or only follows it; and a double Ellipsis, where its express'd neither before nor after it; as, Vir sapit qui pauca loquitur, for qui Vir. Populo ut placerent quas fecisset fabulas; for, Populo ut fabulæ placerent: quas fabulas fecisset. Sunt quos Curriculo pulverem Olympicum collegisse juvat; for, Sunt Homines quos Homines juvat collegisse pulverem Olympicum.

7. As oft as the Genitive Case is set with an Adjective or a Verb, it depends on some Noun understood; as, ultimum dimicationis; where tempus is understood; Est Regis, where Officium is understood; Accusatur furti, where de crimine is wanting; Recordor tui, where Nomen or Statum is understood.

8. Every Verb of the Infinitive Mood hath an Accusative Case before it expressed or understood; as, Volo me facere, or by an Ellipsis, Volo facere.

9. Every Noun Adjective of the Comparative Degree hath its Positive to which it is compar'd, express'd or understood; as, Visus est mihi tristior, sc. æquo, or solito. Ocyus incubuere omnes, where the Word dicto is understood.

10. Besides the Noun, Verb, and Adjective, there are certain Particles, by which those Parts of Speech are tied together as it were with Sinews, which when they are express'd, the Syntax is regular, when suppress'd, it is figurative; as, hac non successit, alia aggrediemur via; where ergo or igitur is understood; Devenere locos lætos, where the Preposition ad is suppress'd.

11. Every Accusative is governed either of a Verb Active, or of a Preposition either express'd or understood; as, En quatuor Aras, where video is understood;

Ex spectatum ludos, where ad is wanting; pridie Calendas, where ante is understood; unless, as we said before, it comes before the Infinitive Mood.

12. Every Ablative Case is governed of a Preposition express'd or understood; as, Ægypto remeans, where the Preposition ~~est~~ is understood; Plenus vino, sc. de vino; doctior cæteris, sc. præ cæteris. These Maxims are borrow'd from Scioppius's Grammar.

When these Rules are not observ'd by Authors of great Reputation, the Construction is said to be figurative; as, either by imitating the Greek Stile or the antiquated Phrase and Construction of the Romans themselves, before the Latin was brought to its Perfection, or by suppressing some Words for Brevity's Sake, or by abounding in too many, and lastly, by changing the natural Order and Placing of Words in a Sentence.

INTRODUCTION.

Letters, 22 in Latin.

Capital.

A. B. C. D. E. F. G. H. I. L. M. N. O.
P. Q. R. S. T. U. X. Y. Z.

Small.

a. b. c. d. e. f. g. h. i. l. m. n. o. p. q. r. s.
t. u. x. y. z.

Letters are { Vowels, or Consonants.

Latin Vowels five.

A Vowel is a Letter, which maketh a perfect Sound of itself, a. e. i. o. u. and y Greek, or Upsilon.

Of Vowels put together are made Diphthongs, ae as mae.

oe as carum
au as audia.
ei as bei
ou as ouge

} ae and oe are pronounced like e.

Con-

Consonants.

Consonants make a Sound by the Help of a Vowel, and they are, Mutes.

Mutes, so called, because they make no Sound of themselves, b. c. d. f. g. h. p. q. r.

Liquids.

Liquids, because they melt, and lose their Force, as l. m. n. r. s.

Double.

Double, because they have the Force of two Consonants, as, x. z.

[z] As it were compounded of d and s.

[x] Of c and s, as dux, or Dux ducis, or of g and s, as gregs, or Grexx gregis.

j. v.

To the Consonants may be added j and v, when they are set before themselves, or other Vowels, in the same Syllable, as Juno, Vultus, where j sounds like a melting G, and V like a dry F.

j.

[j] Between two Vowels has the Nature of a double Consonant, as in major, pejor, contracted from majior, pejior, &c.

[b] By some is rather held a Note of Aspiration, or rough Breathing, than any perfect Letter; in Latin Words b is put after c, and soundeth like k English, as charus.

c.

[c] Before e or i soundeth like an s, as in cedo, cito; before other Vowels like the English k, as cado, colo, cuprum.

After [q] is always written u, as in qui, quondam, &c.
Every

Every proper Name, in the Beginning of a Sentence, and every Verse is to begin with a Capital.

When great or capital Letters be placed alone, or but few, they signify either Names or Number.

Names, as

A. Aulus.	C. M. Cæsarea Majestas.
C. Caius.	D. D. Dono dedit, or Dr. Divinitatis.
D. Decius.	HS. Sestertius.
L. Lucius.	P. C. Patres conscripti.
M. Marcus.	R. P. Respublica.
P. Publius.	S. C. Senatus consultum.
Q. Quirites.	Cos. Consul.
S. Senatus.	S. P. D. Salutem plurimam dicit.
T. Titus.	S. P. Q. R. Senatus populusque Romanus.
V. gr. Verbi gratia.	E. gr. Exempli gratia. i. e. id est.

Number, as

I. one, unus.	L. fifty, quingenta.
IV. four, quatuor.	LX. threescore, sexaginta.
V. five, quinque.	XXC. fourscore, octoginta.
IX. nine, novem.	C. a hundred, centum.
X. ten, decem.	D. five hundred, quingenti.
XL. forty, quadraginta.	M. or CIO a thousand, mille.

Of Letters are made SYLLABLES.

A Syllable is the Comprehension of one Consonant, or more, with a Vowel pronounc'd with one Breath; as, a-ve.

O-ti-um.

The Syllable [ti] when a Vowel immediately follows, is pronounced like [fi.]

Except,

1. The Word Tiara.
2. When [f] comes just before it, at justior.

C

3. The

3. The Paragogical Infinitive Mood, as mittier *.
4. In borrowed Words; as politia.

* For mitti.

Rules and Notes concerning Division and Distinction of SYLLABLES.

1. A Consonant, in Words of many Syllables between two Vowels, is joined to the latter; as,

Do-mi-nus, Dominus.

2. If a Consonant be doubled, the former belongeth to the precedent Vowel, and the other to the following; as, an-nus, er-ror.

3. Consonants † which may be joined in the Beginning of a Word, are not to be separated in the Middle; otherwise they are to be divided.

stu-prum, tur-pis.

† St. Sc. Pf. Pr. &c.

But in Words compounded, the Consonants go with their Parts; as in, ob-est, dis-cors.

Hyphen.

According to these Rules, if any Word, at the End of a Line, for want of Room, or Conveniency, must be divided, let it be done with this Mark, call'd Hyphen, - as,

-----xx-
orius, &c.

A grave Accent.

Sometimes a Note or Mark is set upon the End of a Word, to distinguish it from another, that is written like it; as in multo the Adverb, to distinguish it from multo the Adjective; this is call'd a Grave Accent.

Acute

Acute Accent.

Sometimes another Mark is used when the Syllable is to be pronounced long, by Reason of additional Conjunctions, que, ne, ve, or other enclytical Words, sis, nam, &c. this Note is used at the End of a Word, and is called an Acute Accent; as,

itáne, adêsdum.

A Circumflex.

Sometimes a Note consisting of both these, called a Circumflex, is placed over a Vowel, to shew that it is long by Nature, as amavêrunt, or the Contraction of two Vowels, as quís for quêis.

Diæresis.

Sometimes two Points are set over one Vowel before another, for Difference, as âer, being a Word of two Syllables, and this is called a Note of Diæresis.

A Note which sheweth a Vowel cut off at the End of a Word, and mark'd thus ['] is called Apostrophes.

vidistin', for vidistine.

A Parentthesis is when a Word or more (not of Essence to the Speech) are shut up in two Semicircles. ()

A Note of Interrogation, or Question, is mark'd thus, [?]

A Note of Exclamation, Admiration, or Sorrow, is mark'd thus, [!]

A Note of a long Quantity,

The Note of a short Quantity, v

Comma is a Note of Pausing, or Breathing, when read, mark'd thus, [,]

A Semicolon is a Note of longer Pause, or stay, thus mark'd, [;]

A Colon doth note some perfect Sense express'd, but yet something more to be expected, mark'd thus, [:]

A Period, or full Point, declareth a final perfect Sense, and concludeth with this Mark, [.]

cles set before the Word. viz. a, of, to, and the, when the Word comes after an Action, of and from, by, with, in.

¶ Ipse, he. Ellum.

THE Active Verb doth signify to do;
So may the Neuter, both must end in [o].*

Amo, I love. Curro, I run.

* Except sum, and his Compounds. Actives may take r, to be made Passive Personals, Verb Neuters cannot; some Neuters signify passively, and are called Neuter Passives, as vagabulo, I am whipt.

IN [or] both Passive and Deponent run;
To do Deponent, Passive to be done,
Amor, I am loved. Loquor, I do speak.

Persons, three.

With Verbs three Persons in both Numbers may Join and agree, I, Thou, He, We, Ye, They.

Singular.	{	Ego amo , I love.	{	Plural.	{	nos amamus , we love.
		tu amas , thou lovest.				vos amatis , ye love.
		ille amat , he loveth.				illi amant , they love.

Moods, four.

Indicatives do ask or plainly shew,
Without a Sign, a Reason false or true.

Amat, he loveth; amas tu, dost thou love?

* Imperatives we clearly understand,
Receive both Name, and Nature, from Command.

* Imperatives want the first Person.

Ama, love thou; Monete vos, do ye advise.

MAY, might, would, should, make the Subjunctive known, Sometimes an Adverb or Conjunction.

Si faciam, if I do; ut videam, that I may see, or let me see.

I *Nfinitives which [to] before them use,
Number and Person in their Mood refuse.*

Amare, to love; possum facere, I can do, or I am able to do.

Gerunds, three; Supines, two.

I *N di, do, dum, the Gerunds chime, and close:
[um] the first Supine, [u] the latter shews.*

Amandi, of loving; amando, in loving; amandum, to love.

Monitum, to advise; Monitu, to be advised.

Tenses five.

F *IVE Tenses which their Signs discover still,
* I do, I did, I have, had, shall, or will.*

* Active Signs, Do, did. Have, had. Shall or will.

Present Tense.	Amo , I do love.
Preter- {	Imperfect. { amabam , I did love.
	Perfect. { amavi , I have loved.
	Pluperfect { amaveram , I had loved.
Future Tense.	amabo , I shall or will love.

But if these Signs come not before Verbs, they are Verbs of themselves, as I do, facio; I did, faciebam, or feci, &c.

I have, babeo; I had, habui, habueram.

I will, volo; I would, velim, vellem, &c.

I will not, nolo, nolim; I would not, nollem.

I can possum; I could, potui, &c. I might, possem.

I ought, debeo, debui, deberem, &c.

So likewise the Signs Passive.

Am, art, is, are, Was, were, wert, Have been, had been, shall or will be.

I am, sum, sim; I was, eram, essem; I have been, fui; I had been, fueram, fuisset; I shall or will be, ero, fuero.

Conjugations four.

THE first bath [a] long before [re] and [ris,]
as amare, amaris.

[e] long the second Conjugation is,
as monere, moneris.

[e] short is of the third a perfect Sign,
as legere, legeris.

But with [i] long [io] the fourth decline.
as audire, audiris.

Verbs in O, of the four Conjugations, are declin'd after these Examples.

Although the Infinitives in rum, and tum, were anciently used, when they answered without altering their termination, to every Number and Gender, as Credo nicos meos dicturum, I believe that mine Enemies I say; yet they are not now in Use with the best

Authors, who supply this Tense, by the Participles in rus, and tus, alterable in Gender and Number (of which Infinitive Verbs are not capable) as when we would say, I promise that I will satisfy, instead of saying promitto quod ego satisfaciam (by plain Concord) we say elegantly promitto me satisfacturum, and so in the Plural, nos, vos, aut illos satisfacturos esse pollicemur, we promise that we, ye, or they shall satisfy; illæ dixerunt se empturas, the Women said they would buy; and so in the Neuter, by altering the Gender, and Number, to agree with the Substantive.

Deponents are declined with the runds and Active Participles, Supine.

Hortor, Hortaris vel Hortare, Hortatus sum vel Hortari, Hortandi, do, dum, Hortatum, Hortans, taturus, Hortandus, to exhort.

Participles of the Preter Tense in Verbs Deponent have Active and Passive Signification, because Verbs were anciently held Common. Their Participle in dus always signify passively. In Verbs Deponent we may fancy a regular Active, to form the Preter Tense, as declining Horto, hortas, hortavi, &c from Hortatu to form Hortatus by adding s.

Formation of Tenses.

The Present and Preterperfect Tense are the two Principal Tenses, from which the rest are formed.

Præsens cum Prole.

The Preterimperfect Tense is formed of the Present Tense.

Indicative.

Amabam of amo, by changing o into abam.

Monebam of moneo

Legebam of lego

Audiebam of audio

} by changing o into ebam.

The Future Tense is formed of the Present Tense:

Amabo

Monebo

Legam

Audiam

} of {

Amo

Moneo

Lego

Audio

} by changing o into { abo.

ebo.

} by changing o into am.

Imperative.

The Imperative Mood is formed of the second Person of the present Tense, in three Conjugations.

Ama

Mone

Audi

} from {

Amas

Mones

Audis

} by taking away s.

Leges from Legis, by changing is into e.

Subjunctive.

The Subjunctive Present Tense is formed of the Indicative Present Tense.

Amem of Amo, by changing o into em.

Moneam

Legam

Audiam

} of { Moneo,

Lego,

Audio,

} by changing o into am.

The Subjunctive Imperfect Tense is formed of the Imperative Mood.

Infinitive.

Infinitive Present and Imperfect Tense are for of the Subjunctive Imperfect Tense.

Perfectum cum Prole.

From the Preterperfect Tense of the Indic Mood in every Conjugation Active, are formed the other Tenses; as from Amavi, by changing i into e erim, issem, ero, isſe, are made,

Est mihi curta supellex. Otium est mihi.

† A short Householdstuff is to me. Leisure is to me.

† This is better rendred in English, I have a short Householdstuff. I have Leisure, &c. The Verb est with the Dative mihi is made elegantly for habeo: As instead of Habeo curtam supellectilem, is used Est mihi curta supellex: The Accusative turn'd into the Nominative, and that which was the Nominative, made the Dative. So Est tibi, illi, nobis, vobis, illis, for habeo, habet, habemus, habetis, habent: Where the Thing had is singular. But if that be Plural, it is but changing the Number; as, Sunt mihi divitiae, I have Riches. So, Deest mihi, tibi, illi, nobis argentum, I, thou, he, we want Money. Desunt nobis necessaria, we want Necessaries, or, Necessaries are wanting to us.

You hold an Eele by the Tail.

Olet

Olet Hircum.

He savours of the Goat.

S*SOME * the fourth Case, or Ablative admit
Of their own English Sense, or Kins to it.*

* Verbs Transitives or absolute Nouns, whose Action remaineth in the Verb, and can govern no Case of the Word that answereth to the Question, whom or what, unless it be of its own Signification; as, Canit cantilenam, he sings a Song: Currit cursum, he runs a Race: Vivit vitam, he liveth a Life. This Accusative is elegantly made Ablative, if an Adjective be joined with it; as, Ibat recta via, he went a straight Way: Morte obiit repentina, he died a sudden Death.

Eandem canit cantilenam.

He sings the same Song.

Morte obiit repentina.

He died a sudden Death.

T*O Verbs that Ask, or Teach, old Custom gives A double Chain to bind Accusatives. †*

† The second Accusative may be varied by Prepositions, per, juxta, secundum, in, circa, ad. After Verbs of asking turn the Accusative of the Person, into an Ablative, with the Prepositions, a, ab, de, e, or ex; as Precare veniam a Deo, ask Pardon from God. To these Verbs may be added induo, ceto.

FIGURATIVE CONCORD.

Enallage.

THE guiding Part in every Concord's that Which answers to the Question, who, or what:
sometimes proves to be no Word of Case, is an Aptote, and supplies the Place.

Est quædam flere voluptas.

To weep is a certain Pleasure.

Aliud cras. Alpha est litera.

Another to Morrow. A, is a Letter.

Velle suum cuique est.

His proper Will is to every one.

Syllepsis.

POUNTS singular conjoin'd, when they precede Verbs, Adjectives, or Relatives, may plead plural Nature, and these three surrender themselves to the most worthy Person, Gender:

Amicus & aurum ignibus sunt probandi.

Friend and Gold are to be tried in the Fire.

ego & res mea valemus.

I and my Business are well.

Ille cum fratre salvi sunt.

He with his Brother are safe.

The Masculine Gender is more worthy than the Feminine, the Feminine than the Neuter; but when Things are in Men-without Life, the Neuter is most worthy. Fire and Water not to be intreated, or Things not to be intreated. Aqua & sunt inextinguibilia.

Synthesis.

NOuns Collective, though Singular they be.
With Plural Verbs and Adjectives * agree.

* In Sense, not in Concord of Number or Gender. A Collective, is a Noun which signifies many in the Singular, and is equivalent to a Noun Plural. Of this Nature is a Noun Partitive, which signifies either a Part of a Multitude, or many severally.

Turba ruunt. Aperite aliquis ostium.

A Company rush in. Some of you open the Door.

Elephantus gravis.

An Elephant great with young.

Pars merſi tenere ratem.

Part of the Men drowned; held by the Ship.

Government, or Construction.

Every Word is commonly governed of that which goeth next before in orderly construing, except the Relative, which is to be governed of that which followeth. So likewise are the oblique Cases of quis, qualis, quot, quotus, uter, which follow the Course of the Relative, both for Concord and Government. One Verb may govern many Cases, for several Reasons, and by several Rules.

Construction of Substantives.

WHEN two concur, the latter Substantive
With the Sign [of] assumes the Genitive.
With [to] the Dative, if they both declare
The same Thing, then their Cases equal are.

Anicularum deliramenta. † Carmen Virgilii.

Old Wives Tales. Virgil's Verse.

† Carmen Virgilii, Virgil's Verse, or the Verse of Virgil; this may (not inelegantly) be made in Latin by the Adjective Possessive, Carmen Virgilianum, a Virgilian Verse.

Omne

Omne Solum Forti Patria est.

Every Soil is a native Country to a valiant Man;

Homo, Bulla, quid superbis?

Oh Man! a Bubble, why art thou proud?

BUT in the second Case or sixth we place
The Noun of * Commendation or Disgrace.

* With the latter Substantive of Praise or Dispraise is joyned an Adjective, signifying the Quality.

Odi Puerulos præcoci Sapia.

I mislike Children of too early Wisdom.

Vir emunctæ Naris.

A Man of a clear Head.

Esto præsentis Animo.

Be of a present Mind.

† OPUS and Usus, when they need betray,
Their Want into an Ablative convey.

† Opus the Adjective signifieth needful, the Thing wanted after Opus is put in the Ablative, the Person is always the Dative.

Concord is an Agreement,

1. { * Nominative Case and the Verb:
2. { Between the { Substantive and Adjective.
3. { Antecedent and Relative.

* Nominative Cases are often understood, but especially, ego, tu, ille, nos, vos, illi, when there is no Distinction, or emphatical Signification intended. If you leave out the Conjunction that, which in Latin is called quod, or ut, the Nominative is elegantly turn'd into the Accusative, and the Verb into the Infinitive Mood. Note. A Verb between two Nominative Cases of divers Numbers, may sometimes agree with the Nominative Case that followeth it. Conscientia mille testes. Conscience is a thousand Witnesses.

THE FIRST CONCORD.

VErbs with their Nom'natives true Concord make,
When they the same Number, and Person take.

Dum Felis dormit, saliant Mures.

While the Cats sleep, the Mice dance.

Oportet ut Mendax sit memor.

It is necessary that a Lier be mindful.

THE SECOND CONCORD.

THE * Adjective, and Substantive embrace;
Confin'd to the same Gender, Number, Case.

* An Adjective or Relative between two Substantives of divers Genders, is sometimes found to agree with the latter, Non omnis error stultitia est dicenda. All Error is not to be called Folly. Nemo tollat saxum, qui limes ponitur. Let no Man take away the Stone, which is called a Boundary.

Bono loco res humanæ sunt, quod nemo nisi suo vitio miser.

Human Things are in a good Condition, because no Man is miserable, but by his own Fault.

THE THIRD CONCORD.

THE Antecedent and the † Relative,
Must the same Person, Gender, Number, give.

† When the English, that, may be turned into which, it is a Relative qui, &c. The first Thing to be observed in the Relative is his Case, wherein it agreeth not with the Antecedent, (but by a Gracism.) When there cometh no Nominative Case between the Relative and the Verb, the Relative must be the very Nominative Case to the Verb, by the first Concord; but if any other Word come between the Verb and the Relative, the Relative is governed of the Verb following, or of some other Word in the Sentence.

Qui nimium properat, serius absolvit.

He that maketh too much Haste, finisheth the more late.

Officio suo fungitur.

He performs his Duty.

THE Manner, Cause, and Instrument we place,
Next the Sign [by] or [with] in the sixth Case.

Canis redibit ad vomitum suo more.

The Dog will return to his Vomit after his old Manner.

Voluptas assiduitate fastidium parit.

Pleasure begets Distaste by Continuance.

Generosus equus vel umbra virgæ regitur.

A generous Horse is guided even with the Shadow of a Rod.

IN Ablatives we put the Word of Price:
So the affected Part where Passion lies.

Magno constitit.

It cost a great Price.

Quod non opus est, asse carum est.

That which is not necessary, is dear of a Half-Penny.

Utroque pede claudicat.

He halts of both Feet.

AN * Ablative put Absolute is that
On which a Participle still doth wait
With the Sign [being,] it depends on none;
But is made plain by some Conjunction.

* Here is always a Participle express'd, or understood; when there are two Substantives, a Preposition may be understood; as, Sub fortuna duce, which may be varied either by a Participle, Fortuna ducente, Fortune guiding me; or by Conjunctions, dum, cum, si, quando, postquam, ubi; as, dejecta arbore, i. e. ubi arbor dejectur, or, quando arbor dejecta est, when the Tree is, or shall be cast. Fortuna duce, i. e. Dum fortuna ducat.

Dejecta arbore, ligna colligunt.

The Tree being thrown down, they gather Wood.

Fortuna duce.

Fortune being my Leader.

I N F I N I T I V E S.

Infinitives we clearly apprehend,
Do upon Verbs and Adjectives depend.

In sola Sparta expedit senescere.

It is expedient to be old, only in Sparta.

Audax omnia perpeti.

Bold, to endure all Things.

G E R U N D S.

Gerunds * in [di] like Genitives do stand,
When Substantives or Adjectives command.

* The Gerund in [di] is englished sometimes like a Participle of the Present, and sometimes like the Infinitive Active, and follows the Substantives or Adjectives that govern a Genitive Case. Gerunds when they govern Cases, may elegantly be made Adjectives, and put in the Cases of the Substantives; as, Ratio scribendi literas, is changed into, Ratio scribendarum literarum. Which Genitive is sometimes retained after the Gerunds in [di,] for the avoiding of many like Sounds.

Natura hic commorandi nobis diversorium dedit.

Nature hath given us here an Inn to rest.

Gnarus bellandi.

Expert in Fighting.

Ratio scribendi literas.

The Way of writing Letters.

Gerunds in [do] like Ablatives are known,
By † Prepositions, or else plac'd alone.

† a, ab, de, e, ex, cum, in, pro. Gerunds in [do] and [dum] may also be turned into Adjectives, and agree with the Substantive, which is governed of the Preposition; as, Paratus in numeranda pecunia. Præceptum ad loquendas fabulas.

In silendo securitas.

There is Safety in being silent.

Nimum altercando veritas amittitur.

Truth is lost by too much disputing.

In numerando pecuniam paratus.

Quick in telling Money.

* Gerunds in [dum] such Cases imitate,
As ob, ad, propter, inter, ante, wait.

* When a Necessity is expressed by must or ought in English, it may be made in Latin by the Gerund in [dum] with the Verb Esse, and the Nominative turned into the Dative: as, Serendum est nobis, We must sow. Some will not have this called a Gerund, but the Participle in [dus] substantively put in the Neuter Gender. It is to be sown by us, Et post malam segetem serendum est nobis. These may be varied by debeo, or oportet; as, debemus serere; oportet nos serere, We ought to sow.

Inter convivandum sint viri consonantes, mulieres vocales, puellæ mutæ.

At a Feast let Men be Consonants, Women Vowels, and Maids Mutes.

Ne sis præceps ad loquendum fabulas.

Be not over hasty to speak Fables.

S U P I N E S.

FIRST † *Supines Active are, and Verbs do trace
That signify some Moving to a Place.*

† The first Supine is used for the Infinitive Mood Active, after Verbs of Motion; as, Veniunt spectatum, for Veniunt spectare, They come to see.

Cur te is perditum.

Why dost thou go to lose thy self.

Stultitiæ est ducere venatum invitos canes.

It is a Part of Folly to bring unwilling Dogs to hunt.

LAST § *Supines we from Passive Verbs derive,
Which still are govern'd by an Adjective.*

§ The latter for the Infinitive Passive, Tarpe dictum, for Tarpe dici, it is bade to be spoken.

Cibus concoctu facilis.

Meat easy to be digested.

Nulla merx difficilior cognitu quam fœmina.

No Ware is harder to be known than a Woman.

 Words that do come from Verbs, or Nouns, arrest
Those Cases, which their Primitives possess.

 Participles, Gerunds, Supines, Adverbs, do sometimes govern those Cases which their Verbs did govern.

Equi Molam trahentes multum ambulant, parum promouent.

Horses drawing the Mill, walk much, but gain little Ground.

Omnes desiderio tenemur audiendi nova.

We are all held with a Desire of hearing News.

Scitatum oracula profecti sunt.

They are gone to enquire of the Oracles.

Prudentis est obviam ire periculis.

It is the Part of a wise Man to meet Dangers.

OF TIME.

THE * Term of Time that doth to [when] reply,
In th' Ablative is used properly.

* Sometimes these Cases are used with Prepositions, in, de, per, ante, ad, &c. In horas, Every Hour.

Puncto temporis rerum momenta vertuntur.

The Moments of Things are turned in a Point of Time.

Nemo omnibus horis sapit.

No Man is wise at all Hours.

THE Space of Time that to [how long] doth make An Answer, the † Accusative may take.

† Ad multam noctem, till late at Night; in diem, for a Day; de die, in diem, from Day, to Day; in posterum, hereafter; jam multos annos est, it is now many Years ago; understand [ante.]

Nemo tam senex, quin se annum putet posse vivere.

No Man is so old, but he thinks he may live one Year.

Septem annos in Academia versatus est.

He hath been conversant seven Years in the University.

OF PLACE.

* WHEN [in] or [at] a Place is meant, the Name,
If Proper, in the Genitive we frame.
But if it Plural be, or you decline it
After the third, to Ablative confine it.

* Where?

Tarenti fecit Archytas ligneam Columbam volatilem.
Archytas made at Tarentum a flying Dove of Wood.
Delphis Oracula cessant.
The Oracles cease at Delphos.

PLaces † [to which] in the fourth Case delight.
[From] or [by which] the Ablatives delight
† Whither? From whence? Which Way?

Noctuas Athenas portat.
He carries Owles to Athens.
Non cuivis contingit adire Corinthum.
It happens not to every one to go to Corinth.
Discessit Cantabrigia.
He went from Cambridge.
Roma profecturus est.
He is to go by Rome.

DOmus and Rus, in the same Equipage,
Like Proper Names, their several Case engage:

Res angusta § Domi.	Ruri.
Things are narrow at home.	In the Country.
Ite Domum.	Rus.
Go home.	Go to the Country.
Reversus Domo.	Rure.
Return'd from home.	From the Country:

§ The Genitive Domi will agree with no Adjective but mea, tua, sua, nostra, vestra, aliena. Domi mea, at my House; for it you use other Adjectives, you must use other Cases; as, vescor domo ampla, I feed in a great House, not ample domi.

A D V E R B S.

THE First or Fourth, next En and Ecce place:
Or the Fourth only, where you mean Disgrace.

Ecce homo!

Behold the Man!

En impudentiam!

See the Impudence!

ADverbs of Quantity, of Time, of Place,
* Instar and Ergo rule the second Case.

* Instar is a Noun Substantive invariable, and signifies Likeness, or to the Proportion, or Comparison, Instar montis Equum ædificant, They make a Horse, as great, or to the Proportion of a Mountain. Here [ad similitudinem] may be understood.

Nusquam loci tuta fides.

Faith is certain in no Place.

Instar omnium.

Instead of all.

Abunde fabularum.

Plenty of Tales.

Illius ergo.

For his Sake.

Adverbs are joined in a Sentence to several Moods of Verbs.

Of Time, ubi, postquam, cum or quam, to an Indicative or Subjunctive; as, Hæc ubi dicta dedit; ubi nos laverimus; Postquam excessit ex Ephebis; cum faciam vitula. Virg. Cum canerem Reges. id.

Donec while, to an Indicative; Donec eris fœlix. Donec until, to an Indicative or Subjunctive; Cogere donec oves jussit. Virg. Donec ea aqua decocta sit. Colum.

Dum while, to an Indicative; Dum apparatur Virgo. Dum until, to an Indicative or Subjunctive; as, Dum redeo. Tertia dum Latio regnantem viderit Æstas. Dum for dummodo so as, or, so that, to a Subjunctive; Dum profim tibi.

Quoad while, to an Indicative; quoad expectas cantubernalem. Quoad until, to a Subjunctive; Omnia integra servabo, quoad exercitus buc mittatur.

Simulac, simulatque, to an Indicative or Subjunctive;
as,

as, Simulac belli patiens erat, simulatque adoleverit ætati.
Ut as, to the same Moods; Ut salutabis, ita resalutaberis. Ut sementem feceris, ita & metes. Hor. Ut so soon as, to an Indicative only; as, Ut ventum est in urbem.

Quasi, tanquam, perinde, ac-si. to a Subjunctive only; as, Quasi non norimus nos inter nos. Tanquam feceris ipse aliquid.

Ne of forbidding, to an Imperative or Subjunctive; as, Ne sævi, ne metuas.

Certain Adverbs of Quantity, Quality, or Cause: as, quam, quoties, cur, quare, &c. Thence also, qui, quis, quantus, qualis, and the like, coming in a Sentence after the principal Verb, govern the Verb following in a Subjunctive; as, videte quam valde malitiæ suæ confidat. Cic. Quid est, cur tu in isto loco sedeas? Cic. pro Cluent. Subsidio mihi diligentiam comparavi, quæ quanta sit intelligi non potest, nisi, &c.

CONJUNCTIONS.

* Conjunctions do like Case and Tenses bind;
 And Moods are often by their Power confin'd.

* These, nam, at, est, ac, atque, et, aut, vel, nec, neque, si, quin, quatenus, fin, seu, siue, ni, nisi, sed, verum, begin a Sentence, or are to be placed first; quidem, quoque, autem, vero, enim, are construed first, placed second; ergo, igitur, itaque, equidem, are placed first or second.

Mallem invenire bonos quam facere.

I had rather find good Men, than make them.

Ne perdas animum.

Lose not thy Spirit.

Some Conjunctions govern an Indicative, some a Subjunctive, according to their several Significations.

Etsi, tametsi, etiamsi, quanquam, an Indicative; licet and quamvis most commonly a Subjunctive; as, Etsi nihil:

hil novi afferebatur. Quauquam animus meminisse horret. Quamvis Elysios miretur Græcia campos. Ipse licet venias.

Ni, nisi, si, siquidem, quod, quia, postquam, posteaquam, antequam, priusquam, an Indicative or Subjunctive; as, Nisi vi mavis eripi. Ni faciat. Castigo te, non quod odio habeam, sed quod amem. Antequam dicam. Si for quamvis, a Subjunctive only. Redeam? non si me obsecret.

Si also conditional may sometimes govern both Verbs of the Sentence in a Subjunctive; as, Respiraro si te videro. Cic.

Quando, quandoquidem, quoniam, an Indicative; as, Dicite quandoquidem in molli consedimus herba. Quoniam convenimus ambo.

Cum seeing that, a Subjunctive; as, Cum sis officiis Grædive virilibus aptus.

Ne, an, num, of doubting, a Subjunctive; as, Nihil refert, fecerisne, an persuaseris; vise num redierit.

Interrogatives also of Disdain or Reproach understood, govern a Subjunctive; as, Tantundem, quantum ille poposcerit.

P R E P O S I T I O N S.

* TWice sixteen Prepositions stand prepar'd,
In Front of the Accusatives a Guard.

* Circiter, adversum, cis, citra, adversus, extra, erga, apud, ante, secus, trans, supra, versus, ad, infra, ultra, post, præter, propter, prope, pone, secundum, per, circum, circa, contra, juxta, inter, ob, intra, usque, penes.

Ad Græcas Calendas.

At the Greek Calends, i. e. never.

Ob oculos.

Before the Eyes.

Inter cœnam.

At Supper.

Twelve

TWELVE Prepositions, like a Jury, give Their Verdict only for the Ablative.

* a, abs, sine, absque, obam, cum, de, e, ex, pro, pra, tenus.

Est Regi a poculis.

He is † Cup-bearer to the King.

Pro viribus.

According to my Strength.

Ore tenus. Capulo tenus.

Face to Face. Up to the Hilt.

† Offices are elegantly expressed in Latin by the Preposition [a] with the Verb [est,] and a Dative of the Possessor, or Master, Est Regi a consiliis, a Counsellor to the King, or one of his Coun-sils; a peditibus, a Footman.

FIVE Prepositions equally imbrace
The Ablative and the Accusing Case.

§ In, sub, super, subter, clam. Am, di, dis, re, se, con, are on-read in Composition.

Sub dio.

In the open Air.

Nitimur in vetitum.

We bend to that which is forbidden.

SOME Prepositions their own Cases meet
When they compound, and some themselves repeat:

Neminem præteribis infalutatus.

Thou shalt pass by none unsaluted.

Accede ad ignem.

Come to the Fire.

INTERJECTIONS.

VOCATIVES follow Interjections, when They have Pretence to speak to Things, or Men.

Euge, Serve fidelis.

Well done, faithful Servant.

Heus, bone vir.

Heark, good Sir.

BUT

BUT breaking forth in Exclamation, they Make the First, Fourth, and the Fifth Case obey.

Ab me miserum! O tristissimæ noctes!

Ah me wretched! O most sad Nights!

O puer future doctus!

O Boy like to be learned!

BUT Hei and Væ like Twins of Grief imbrace, Concluding Sorrow with the Dative Case.

Hei misero mihi! Væ vobis!

Alas for me miserable! Wo to you!

Of some Figures, or uncommon Ways of Speaking, to be often met with in Latin Words, especially in Poetical Writings.

1. Something is added to the Beginning of Words; as Gnatus for Natus, and this Way of Writing is called Prosthesis.
2. Or taken from the Beginning; as, Conia for Ciconia, called Aphæresis.
3. Added to the Middle; as, Relligio for Religio, called Epenthesis.
4. Taken from the Middle; as, noſti for noviſti, called Syncope.
5. Taken from the End of a Word; as, Ingeni for Ingenii, called Apscope.
6. Added to the End; as, dicier for dici, called Paragoge.
7. Sometimes a Letter is transposed in a Word; Evan-dre for Evander, this Manner of Writing is called Metatbesis.

Some-

Sometimes there is a Word or more suppressed in a Sentence by a Figure or Manner of Speaking, called Ellipsis.

1. The Substantive is suppressed in these Forms of Speaking; Laurea est donatus, where the Word Corona is understood; Brevi veniet, where Tempore is understood.
2. The Adjective frequently; as, Non sum solvendo, where aptus is wanting. Esse alicui ad manum, where the Word Servus is understood; the same is understood in these Expressions, a Pedibus, ab Epistolis, a Poculis, a Studiis.
3. The Verb is understood frequently; as, Scit fidibus, where canere is understood. Male audit, for Male audit dici de se. The Word Ire is suppressed in those, Rhodium volo, inde Athenas. Loqui is understood in these, Scit Latine, intelligit Gallice. In Hæc hætenus; dixi is understood. Dii meliora, where faciant is understood. Dii meliora ferant, suppose oro.
4. There are scarcely two Lines to be met with in a Latin Author, but the Prepositions and Adverbs are suppressed for Brevity's sake, as we see in all other Languages.

Which if well observed, the Latin Rules of Syntax might be reduced to a small Number, and the Language rendered much easier than 'tis; as, Sex pedes altus, where ad is understood. Pridie Calendas, where ante is wanting. Homo id ætatis, suppose circa to be understood; I might give a thousand Instances more, if necessary, and consistent with my design'd Brevity. There are besides these many other Figures or uncommon Ways of Speaking which Grammarians take Notice of, but give no Assistance to the Learner.

Directions for turning Latin into English, or English into Latin.

THE Nominant and Verb in Syntax are
As Pillars, which the whole Composure bear:
The Signs Do, Am, the Verb will ever shew;
The Nominant is shewn by what or who :
By Nominant and Verb together joyn'd,
The Case succeeding you will ever find.
Each other Case by proper Signs is known,
By Preposition, Termination.
A Noun and Participle no Sign to't,
Nor Verb annex'd, in Case is absolute.
This and the Rest by Practice will be plain,
And noblest Pleasures will reward the Pain.

A Method of examining the Parts of Speech.

Questions to be asked on every Part of Speech in General, viz.

What the Word signifies? What Part of Speech it is? and how he knows, whether it be simple or compound? If simple, what Compounds it has? If compound, what are the compounding Parts? Whether Primitive or Derivate? If Primitive, what Derivatives it has? If Derivative, whence derived? If it have various Significations, which are the Principal? If the Significations be tropical, what Trope? What Words are Synonymous, or of the same Signification? What Phrase, Proverb, or remarkable Saying relates to it?

Quest-

Questions to be asked on the several Parts in Particular.

If a Substantive, whether proper or common? and how he knows it? Of what Gender? and how he knows it? Of what Declension? and how he knows it? and how declined? If an Adjective, whether comparable or incomparable? and how he knows it? Of what Termination, and how declined?

If a Verb, whether Active, Passive or Neuter? and how he knows it? If Active, whether Transitive or Intransitive? and how he knows it? Of what Conjugation? and how he knows it? Which are the principal Tenses? what Participles it has?

If a Particle, what Particle? and how he knows it?

The Construction of the Parts examined.

If a Substantive, what Case? If a Nominative, before what Verb it is?

If a Genitive, what Substantive goes before it?

If the Dative, or Case of Application, which is the applied Word? If an Accusative, whether an Accusative after a Verb, or an Accusative after a Preposition, or the Accusative before the Infinitive?

If the Ablative, of what Preposition is it governed?

If an Adjective, to what Substantive is it joined? and wherein must the Adjective be conformed to the Substantive?

If a Verb, of what Number and Person? and of what Nominative is it said or predicated? and wherein must the Verb be conformed to the Nominative?

If an Adverb or Preposition, on what Verb or Adjective doth it depend? If a Conjunction, what two Sentences doth it join?

If a Word admit of various Constructions, which be they?

M

If

If any Word be suppressed, how is it supplied? If the Sentence be Active, to turn it into a Passive; If Passive, to turn it into an Active. If contracted, to dilate it; If dilated, to contract it.

Of the Quantity of Syllables, and Versifying.

IN Writing Prose 'tis sufficient to observe the true Accent, or Raising and Falling of the Voice in the Pronouncing of Words, which is sooner attained by hearing others reading correctly, than by the Help of any Rules: But Prosodie, or the Art of Versifying, considers the Quantity of Syllables; by which is meant the longer or shorter Space of Time, usually required in Pronouncing or Speaking out different Syllables; for some are hurried out of the Mouth in Haste, and others are more slow in their Motion; Thus the Proportion between a long and short Syllable, is that of two to one, tho' in some Words the Difference is so small, that the Poet is at Liberty to use Syllables long or short; as, Tenēbræ short, Tenēbræ long, as it may best serve the Measure of the intended Verse.

N. B. A long Syllable in Dictionaries is mark'd thus - and a short thus v.

Words contracted are long; as, nil for nihil, mi for mibi; vemens for vehemens; coperuisse for cooperuisse.

Diphthongs are long; as, scænum, aurum. Except in the Preposition Præ, when compounded; as, Præest, Præire.

One Vowel coming before another is short; as, Dex. Excepting e in the Genitive and Dative of the fifth Declension; as, Diei, Speciei. Nevertheless e is short in Fidci, Spei, Rei.

I, in Fio is long in all its Tenses, where r is not found; as, Fis, fiēbam. But where r is found, it is short; as, Fierem, fieri. Geni-Genitives in ius are either short or long ; as, unius, illius, ipsius, totius, utrius. But is always short in alterius, and long in alius.

A Vowel coming before two Consonants, or a double Letter, is long ; as, Sapiens, axis, gaza. The double Letters are x, and z.

One Syllable coming before another, compounded of Mutes, and these liquid Letters, l, or r, is either long or short ; as,

Omne solum forti Patria est, mihi Patria cælum.

Nox tenebras profert, Phœbus fugit inde tenebras.

These Particles or Prepositions, a, de, e, se, di, are long in Composition ; as, amitto, deduco, erumpo, diripo, separo.

Di is short in dirimo and disertus.

Re is short in Redeo, refero, refers, refert ; but is long in refert, when it signifies, It imports, it concerns.

The other Prepositions are short ; as, coercuit, comedo, obumbrans, omitto, anbelat, inoffensus, superesse, subeunt, peragit.

But Pro is long in Produce, profero, provebo, profugio, &c. But is short in Profiteor, protervus, proficiscor, procella, procus, profana, profunda, pronepos, profato. But is either long or short in propellit, propulso, procurrit, propago.

Perfect Tenses of two Syllables have their first long ; as, egi, veni, vidi, vici. Except bibi, fidi, tuli, dedi, steti, scidi.

Perfect Tenses that are doubled have their two first Syllables short ; as, Didici, cecini, tetigi, cecidi. Except, pepedi and cæcidi a cædo.

Supines of two Syllables are long ; as, Notum, visum. Except, itum, ratum, situm from sino, datum, tutum, satum a sero, litum from lino, statum from sto ; citum from cio is long ; citum from cio is short.

Supines in utum are long ; as, solutum ; so Supines in itum, when they come from Perfects in ivi ; as, quæsitum, auditum.

But are short when they do not come from Perfects in ivi; as, tacitum from tacui; monitum from monui.

Increasing of Verbs.

A, is long in the Increasing of Verbs; as, amare, stbam, bibamus, fueraamus. But the first Increase is short in do, and its Compounds; as, dabam, dabunt, circumdamus, venundari. But is long in the Rest of its Increasing; as, dabamus.

E, is long in the Increasing of Verbs; as, Amemus, amaremus, amareris, amarere, &c.

It is short in the Tenses ending in beris, eram, ero, erim; as, Amaberis, poteram, legero, legerim.

E, is short in Verbs of the third Conjugation in the first Increasing of the Present Tense, and Imperfect, where r is found after e; as, legeris, or legere. But is long in the second Increasing; as, Legereris, or legerere, legeretur.

I, is short in the Increasing; as, Amabitis. But is long in the first Increasing of Verbs of the fourth Conjugation; as, Audire, adibo, scirent.

I, is long in Simus, nolimus, velimus, sitis, velitis, and also in all Perfect Tenses in ivi. Venimus is long in the Perfect, and short in the Present.

O, is long in the Increasing; as, Facitote, amatote.

U, is short in Sumus, volumus, nolumus; But is long in Particles in rus; as, Docturus.

Increasing of Nouns.

Nouns of the first Declension do not increase. Nouns of the second increase short; as, Gener, generi; Puer, pueri; Vir, viri. But, Iber, iberi; and its Compound Celtiber, are long.

Neuters in al make alis long; as, Animal, animalis.

Nouns in il and ul increase short; as, Vigil, vigilis; Consul, consulis.

Nouns

Nouns in el and ol increase long ; as, Daniel, Danielis ; Sol, solis.

Nouns increasing in anis, enis, onis, are long ; as, Pean, Peanis ; Ren, renis ; Cicero, Ciceronis.

The Increase ending in inis is short ; as, Homo, hominis.

Proper Names are different in their Increase, National for the most Part, make onis short ; as, Macedo, Macedonis.

Nouns making their Increase in aris, are short ; as, Cæsar, Cæsaris ; Mas, maris ; Par, paris.

But Neuters ending in ar, increase long ; as, Exemplar, exemplaris ; Laquear, laquearis. But Nectar makes Nectaris short ; Jubar, jubaris.

Nouns in er, make eris short ; as, Carcer, carceris. Except, Iber, iberis ; Crater, crateris ; Ver, veris.

T, is short ; as, Audit.

U, is long ; as, Vultu, manu.

Having discoursed of the Quantity of Syllables, something must be said of the Nature and several Kinds of Verses, which are most in Esteem ; as, the Hexameter, or Heroic Verse, consisting of six Feet, whereof the four first may be either Dactyl, that is, a Foot of three Syllables, whereof the first is long, and the two last short ; or Spondee, i. e. a Foot of two long Syllables, but the fifth Foot should be always a Dactyl, to make the Verse run smooth, tho' sometimes there is a Spondee in the fifth Place ; as,

Cbara Deum soboles magnum Jovis incrementum.

Scan'd thus, Cbara De Daçt. um sobo Daçt. les mag Spond. num Jovis Daçt. Incre Spond. mentum. Spond. The sixth Foot is always a Spondee, as you see in the Verse before us.

A Pentameter, consists of five Feet, either of the two first a Dactyl, or Spondee, and then a long Syllable at the End of the Word, after this two Dactyls with another long Syllable at the Close, which with the other former long one evens the Measure ; as,

Hei mihi quod Domino non licet ire tuo.

Scan'd thus, Hei mihi Daçt. quod Domi Daçt. no long Syllable. non licet Daçt. ire tu Daçt. o long Syllable.

The last two Feet of the Heroick Verse make a separate Kind of Verse, called Adonick, consisting of a Dactyl and a Spondee; as,

*Sis mihi præsens,
Rebus in arctis, Christe Redemptor.*

Besides these Feet Dactyl and Spondee, there are many more; as,

Pyrrich, or two short Syllables; as, Pius.

Trochee, first long, t'other short; as, Ardet.

Iambe, first short, second long; as, Amans.

Moloss, three long; as, Cælestes.

Tribrac, three short; as, Dominus.

Anapest, the two first short, and last long; as, Animas.

Out of these, and other more Feet, several Sorts of Verses are composed by Horace, and other Poets; but the Hexameter and Pentameter are the most considerable, as being the Verses and Measure made use of by Virgil and Ovid, the noblest and sweetest of the Latin Poets.

In Scanning of Verses.

1. Observe, that a Vowel either with or without M at the End of a Word (and sometimes of a Verse) is lost, when the Word or Verse following begins with H, or a Vowel; as,

Sera nimis vit' est crastina viv' bodie.

Monstru' horrendu' inform' ingens cui lumen ademptum,

The former Way of cutting off, is called Synalæpha, the latter Eclipsis, but sometimes the former is dispensed with; as,

Heu! ubi pacta fides, ubi quæ jurare solebas!

2. Sometimes also by the Omission of a Synalæpha the preceding Vowel or Diphthong is shortened; as,

Cre-

Credimus, an qui amant ipsi sibi somnia fingunt. Virg.

3. One Vowel before another in the same Word, is either lost, or melts into one Syllable with the latter, and this is called Synæresis; as, Præcipue sanus nisi cum pituita molesta est.

4. The Poets do not always observe their own Rules, but transgress them sometimes by an Authority assumed, called Poetical Licence.
5. When the last Syllable of a Word begins a new Foot, after any Cadence in the Verse, 'tis sometimes allowed to gain one Time by it, or a Syllable by Nature short, becomes long; as,

Castaneæ fagus ornusque incanuit albo. Virg.

This small Collection of Rules in the Hands of a prudent Teacher, are sufficient, in my Opinion, to put a Youth in a Capacity of making his own Remarks on Latin Authors, which I humbly conceive is the Design of writing Grammars for the attaining of any Tongue; for twenty Folios would not contain all the Niceties that are requisite to understand any Language perfectly, which is to be sought by indefatigable reading the best Authors, and not by a Multiplicity of Rules.

Si quis me quæret inde vocato.

Infortunia nostra istinc emanant.

Illuc properemus.

Imprimis renunciatum
erat mihi ab illo.

Indies me provocat.

Vos estis inferne.

Imo, potius quam tuam amplius ferre molestiam.

Intro mihi tulit.

Intus est in ædibus.

Mihi isthic nec scribitur nec metitur.

Iterum & sæpius te rogo.

Libenter faciam.

Licet si tibi placet.

Fortunæ magis tribuo quam tuæ sapientiæ.

Male se habuit mane.

Mehercle es vir plane probus.

Millies tibi gratias ago.

Quis ridiculus minus illo ?

Modo meprehendit.

Mox, vel statim, redibo.

Let's go that Way.

My Mother lived there lately.

He will in like Manner get away from thence as soon as he can.

*If any body wants me
call me thence.*

Our Misfortunes are spread abroad from thence.

Let's hasten thither.

He told me the News first of all.

He daily provokes me.

You are below.

Yes, rather than to bear any further your Troublesomness.

He brought it me in.

He is within Doors.

There is neither sowing nor mowing for me there.

I entreat you again and again.

I will do it willingly.

Be it so, if you please.

I attribute it more to Fortune, than your Wisdom.

He was very bad in the Morning.

In Truth, you are a very honest Man.

I give you a thousand Thanks.

Who is less ridiculous than he ?

He met with me but just now.

I'll return presently.

Sæpius admirari solebam.

Næ tu melius famæ tuæ consuluisses.

Necubi a vero aberres.

Nimirum abdicavit hæredem.

Ne in usu quidem, nedum in honore ullo erat.

Nequaquam subterfugiet pœnam.

Consilia tibi omnia, non omnino credet.

Non modo dives est, sed avarus.

Non solum laborat feбри, sed claudus est pedibus.

Nudiustertius uxorem duxit.

Videte num dubitandum vobis sit.

Nunc mihi in mentem, venit, olim quæ loquutus est.

Hoc olim meminisse juvabit.

Nunquam unum intermittit diem quin ad me veniat.

Nunquid expectabo te vel non ?

O si redisset incolumis.

Omnifariam patet.

Optime est.

Parce rebus utitur.

Saluti pariter ac honori consulendum est.

I used often times to wonder.

In Truth it had been better for your Credit.

Lest any where you depart from the Truth.

To wit he disinherited the right Heir.

It was not so much as in Use, much less in Esteem.

He shall by no means privily escape Punishment.

He will not at all trust you with all his Counsels.

He is not only rich, but covetous.

He is not only sick of a Fever, but lame of his Feet.

He was married three Days ago.

Consider whether you ought to make any Doubt.

It now comes into my Mind, what he said formerly.

I shall with Pleasure remember this hereafter.

He lets not one Day pass but he comes to me.

Whether shall I expect you or no ?

O that he had returned safe.

It is manifest on every Side.

It is very well.

He lives sparingly.

Life and Honour are equally to be regarded. Pa.

Parum mihi profit.

It is but a little Profit to me.

Paſumper, dum redeo opperire me hic.

Stay for me here a little While till I return.

Pauliſper, dum ſe uxor
componat, commoratus eſt.

He ſtayed a little till his Wife got ready.

Serpere paulatim.

To go on by little and little.

Non paulo ſapientior.

Not a little wiſer.

• Paululum ſine ad me ut redeam.

Let me come to my ſelf a little.

Pedetentim tibi omnem
rem dicam.

I'll tell you the whole Thing by little and little.

Penitus officium ſuum præſtitit.

He thoroughly perform'd his Duty.

Perendie te videbo.

I ſhall ſee you two Days hence.

Plerumque ita fit.

For the moſt Part it comes thus to paſs.

Ut peſſime illi cadat.

Let it befall him very ill.

Plus quinquaginta hominum ceciderunt.

There were more than fifty Men ſlain.

Plurimum ei placuit.

It pleaſed him very much.

Pol me occidiſti amici-tia.

You indeed have killed me with Kindneſs.

Poſtremo quid dicam ?

Laſtly, what ſhall I ſay.

Is quem poſtremum nominavi.

He whom I named laſt.

Hoc jam pridem audivi.

I heard this ſome Time ago.

Pridie quam occideretur.

The Day before he was killed.

Primo mentionem faciam de te.

I'll mention you in the firſt Place.

Ægre tulit primum.

He took it ill at firſt.

Privatim abiit.

He went away privately.

Prius ad te ſcripſi.

I wrote to you before.

Prodieram foras, prius quam tu ſurrexeras.

I was gone abroad before you was up.

Ut non modo prope
me, sed plane mecum habitare possis.

Seges propemodum jam matura est.

Pene fero scivi.

Nihil prorsus.

Proxime Pompeium sedebam.

Putas, inops mentis.

Qua feror ?

Nisi idem dictum sit quadrages.

Si tam vitia nostra quam imperia ferre potuissent.

Videndum est quamdiu retinendum sit.

Quampridem non edisti ?

Quamobrem accuser nescio.

Quid tu tristis es ?

Quidni illum abducat ?

Quare negasti ?

Quamprimum res transigatur.

Quinques tanto amplius.

That you may not dwell near unto me only, but even with me.

The standing Corn is now almost ripe.

It was almost too late before I knew it.

Nothing at all.

I sat next to Pompey. •

That is to say, out of his Wits.

Which Way am I carried.

Unless it is told forty times.

If they could as well have born with our Vices as Commands.

We must consider how long it may be retained.

How long ago is it since you eat ?

I know not why I should be accused.

Why are you sad ?

Why should he not carry him away ?

Wherefore did you deny it ?

As soon as the Business can be dispatched.

When will that be ?

By how much the higher we are, by so much the more lowly let us behave our selves.

Wheresoever you go I will follow.

He made as though he wept.

About five times as much.

Quo

Quo iturus es;

Ibo quocunque jubes.

Quomodo non intelligis?

Tanta quondam in hac republica fuit virtus.

Bina millia quotannis penderent.

Quotidie peccant homines.

Quoties vis dictum?

Quovis te concomitabor.

Quousque charitatem extendit?

Quum primum animum ad scribendum appulit.

Raro evenit.

Recta ad me venit.

Recte dicis.

Summa repente cadunt.

Revera nusquam tuta fides.

Sane hac multo propius ibis.

Sapienter rem tractasti.

Satis est quod sufficit.

Nesco an satius fuisset populo.

Scilicet abhorret a re uxoria.

*Where are you going?
I'll deal no otherwise with you.*

I'll go whithersoever you command me.

How is it, that you do not understand?

So great Virtue was in this Common-wealth formerly.

To what End would it be?

They should pay every Year two thousand.

Men sin daily.

How often must you be told of it?

I'll accompany you any where.

How far doth his Charity reach?

When first he gave his Mind to Writing.

It seldom happens.

He came straight to me.

You say right.

Lofty Things fall on a sudden.

Indeed there is no Truth in Man.

This is truly a great deal the nearest Way.

You have wisely managed the Affair.

Enough is as good as a Feast.

I know not whether it might had been better for the People.

To wit he is not minded to marry. Sc-

Semel induxit animum.

He had once persuaded himself,

He is always out at the same Note.

The Disease will kill him by Degrees.

*And he called them aside.
Six times as much as.*

As that was painful.

So this is pleasant.

It is better to be wise late than never.

If he is any where to be found.

Like as you see.

They march one by one.

As soon as he returns.

I pray thee, come hitber.

They differ but in one Thing.

Spare me only this once.

To look upon now and then.

There were not above three thousand Men at the most.

He feared lest he should be set upon from above.

Look upwards.

The Night coming on the Battle ceased at last.

Man passes away like a Bubble.

'Tis so very little worth.

It weighs so much.

Only believe me.

'Tis within a little of Ten a Clock. Nil

Nil aggredi temere.

Ter fuit in prælio, totiesque vulneratus.

Tricies victoriam tulit.

Trifariam decoctus erat.

Ubi tunc eras, ubi hoc audiui?

Ubicumque vadis.

Ubinam terrarum orbis itinerasti?

Ubique adest numen.

Ubivis in horto deambulare liceat.

Una mecum suffragium tulit.

Unde venis?

Unice eum dilexit.

Unquam ex ullo homine hoc audisti.

Usque quo opus erit.

Ut viridi sedebat in herba.

Utinam viveret.

Plus eum respexi utpote senior.

Utrobique magnos inimicos habui.

Quo ex iudicio velut ex incendio nudus effugit.

Verbatim interpretatus est.

Hoc vere dicunt.

Vicatim conscribuntur.

Præda, quæ capta fuit, viritim divisa.

Do nothing rashly.

He has been three times in Battle, and so oft wounded.

He has conquer'd thirty times.

He was bankrupt three several times.

Where were you then, when I heard this?

Wheresoever thou goest.

In what Part of the World didst thou travel?

Providence is every where.

We may walk any where in the Garden.

He voted with me.

Whence come you?

He loved him intirely.

Did you ever hear this of any Man?

As far as shall need.

As he was sitting on the green Grass.

I wish he may live.

I regarded him more as being the elder.

I had great Enemies on both Sides.

From which Judgment he escaped naked as from a Fire.

He rendred it Word for Word.

In this they speak Truth.

They are set down Street by Street.

The Prey that was taken was divided Man by Man.

Viz

Vix fatus erat, sed vulgate se gessit.

Vulgo dici solet.

Reduce pallium meum, ac ne me frustra.

Aliter atque sperabam res tota erat conclusa.

Visam an domi est.

Crebras a nobis literas expectes, aut plures etiam mittito.

At constat.

Atqui nullam sensimus tum vexationem.

Attamen assumpsit vires & viriliter se gessit.

Mihi autem nihil amabilius praesentia tua.

Cæteroquin admodum fuit gratus.

Aliam rem aggreditur, cæterum haud secus difficilem.

Ipsæ cum mihi, tum aliis displiceo.

Dum res maneant, verba fingant suo arbitratu.

Dummodo inter te & me murus sit.

Ab his enim primum equitatus erat pulsus.

Enimvero spectatum factis putabam.

Equidem in eam partem accipio.

He scarce spoke, but he behaved himself meanly.

It is a common Saying.

Bring home my Cloak, and do not disappoint me.

The whole Business was ended otherwise than I expected.

I will go and see whether he be at home.

You may expect frequent Letters from us, but send also more frequent to us.

But it's evident.

But we were then sensible of no Vexation.

Nevertheless he took Courage and behaved himself valiantly.

But there is nothing more lovely to me than thy Presence.

In all other Respects he was very grateful.

He is about another Business, but no less difficult.

I displease both my self and others.

So the Things be the same, let them feign Words at their Pleasure.

So that there be but a Wall betwixt us.

For first they routed the Horse.

Truly I thought him sufficiently tried.

Truly I construe it thus:
Pri-

Hic exercitus Cæsarem for Captain.*

You take me for another.

Notwithstanding you are thirty Yearsold, yet you have answered very unlearnedly.

You came in good Season, in Pudding Time.

Out of Season.

of Purpose.*

I being a Soldier, I assault you.

Every body esteems him.

I will stay till you come.

I forbid you to go out.

without being weary.*

O

Nun-

Nunquam fratrem tuum invenio, quin protinus illum salutem.

Me inopinantem aggressus est.

Rem tacitus considerat.

A nemine adjutus ad honores pervenit.

Illam solus habere volo.

Quæ cum ita sint.

Mensis hic agitur jam septimus ex quo illum vidi.

Ab hinc annos duos, vel duobus annis mortuus est.

Utcunque, ut ut sunt res.

Nemo id dixit præter me, præterquam ego.

Qualis est rex, tales sunt subditi.

Si nos ii simus, qui esse debemus.

Unum videtur & idem esse atque id quod egisti.

Etiam tum, cum me diligere deberent.

Primum de virtute, tum de vitio locutus est.

Ibi, ibidem, inibi, illic, habitat.

Non, nisi perfecta re, conquirere possum.

Utere excusatione adversus illum.

Mens futuri præscia.

I never meet your Brother, but presently I pay him my Respects.

He assaulted me unawares.

He considers the Matter without saying any thing.

He got Honours without any Help.

I will have her all to my self.

Since it is so.

This is the seventh Month since I have seen him.

He died three Years ago.

In whatsoever Condition Things be.

No body said that but I.

Such as the King is, such are the Subjects.

If we are such as we ought to be.

It seems to be one and the same Thing as that which you have done.

Even when they ought to love me.

First he spoke of Virtue, and then of Vice.

He liveth there.

I cannot rest till the Thing is done.

Make your Excuse to him.

A Mind that foreknows the Things to come. Puto

Puto me illi affatim satisfecisse.

Id non mihi latet.

Quanta potero tibi præstabo officia.

Tanta est mea erga te amicitia.

Non is sum quem putas.

I think I have fully satisfied him.

I know it.

To wit, that is to say.

He is not fit to be sent.

What Philosopher can ye find?

Whether there be any Law written any where, or no where.

When you were scarcely thirty Years old.

Do you wish that which is unlawful?

He did drive back the Enemy without any Fear.

He went away without bidding his Landlord farewell.

They were six hundred besides Children.

At the Sound of the Trumpet.

I think you will repent.

He did run so that he fell down.

He is so wise, that, &c.

I will serve you as much as I can.

I have so much Love for you.

I am not such a Man as you think.

Ea est indole ut omnes

Eamus

Præter duos, vel si duos excipias, sapientissimus est.

Sub finem mensis, exeunte anno.

Secundo, tertio creatus est consul pater meus.

Primum parco, quod si iterum in culpam incideris, poenas dabis.

Subinde, identidem venit me visum.

Ne semel quidem mihi occurrit.

Interdum docte, interdum male respondet.

Id ultimum tibi dico, cave ne nimium loquaris.

Cautior est quam ut decipiatur.

Si forte eveniet ut mature venias.

Si semel foras abieris, periisti.

Annon, nonne, numquid, num obviam Cæsari profectus est?

Quidnam respondes?

Quænam est hæc puella?

Multis ab hinc diebus non studui.

Dudum est quod profectus est, vel cum profectus est.

Non diu est ex quo doctus est, non ita pridem doctus est.

Adhuc juvenis quam diligentissime studebam.

He is the wisest of all but two.

In the End of the Month, in the End of the Year.

My Father was made Consul for the second, third Time.

I forgive you, but if you commit the same Fault again, you shall be punished.

He comes to see me now and then.

I never met him.

Sometimes he answers well, and sometimes ill.

I tell you this for the last, see that you speak not too much.

He is too prudent to be deceived.

If it happens by chance that you come betimes.

If you go once out, you are lost.

Is he not gone to meet Cæsar?

What do you answer?

Who is that little Girl?

I did not study since many Days.

It is long since he did go.

It is not long since he is a Scholar.

When I was young, I did study with as much Diligence as can be.

Neve major, neve minor cura suscipiatur quam causa postulet.

Nonne res ita se habet?

Atque id porro aliqua uxor mea rescisceret.

Præterquam in bonis, non est amicitia.

Proinde fac tantum animum habeas, quanto opus est.

Oblitus fui, quamvis epistolam legerim.

First therefore shall the Beginning be declared, and then the Cause.

And he returned a little after.

I can hardly yield you this, tho' you are his Father.

For that Reason I must be gone.

He therefore forbid me his House.

I hope this also will be to no Purpose.

Altho' he threatens me with Death.

For if any Mischief be in this Matter.

I am afraid lest this should spread farther.

I will now tell thee also of thy Exploits.

Whether or no would you set that Servant at Liberty.

He can't rise unless he be helped.

Take not more nor less Care than the Cause requires.

Is it not so?

And moreover, my Wife would hear of it by some Means or other.

There is no Friendship save in good Men.

Be therefore as courageous as the Cause requires.

I have forgot altho' I read the Letter.

Quando te id video desiderare.

Quandoquidem ista tantopere laudas.

Quatenus, nescio, cur acculer.

Fœlicem tuum gratulor lætorque reditum.

Te quidem laudo, quia institisti factum.

Quin illud patrem admoneo.

Quippe forma impulsimœstra, amatores colunt.

Quo celerius evaderem.

Quocirca si forte morbus amplior factus est.

Hei mihi quod nullis amor est medicabilis herbis!

Quod si rem astu tractaverit.

Quoniam huc non venis, cœnes apud nos.

Omnem exercitum suum, omnia quoque consilia mihi credidit.

Adulatores fuge, quum occulti inimici longe sint pessimi.

Si societatem cum bonis frui non licebit, saltem cohibeam a malis.

Sed necesse est ut huic subveniat.

Sive ego taceo sive loquor.

When I see you desire it.

For as much as you so greatly praise 'em.

Seeing I cannot tell why I am accused.

I congratulate and am glad of your happy Return.

I commend you indeed because you stood to it.

But if I acquaint your Father with it.

For Lovers being taken with our Beauty de haunt us.

That I might the more quickly escape.

Therefore if perchance his Sickness increase more.

Who is he that Love is to be cured by no Herb!

But if he has done the Business craftily.

Seeing you come not hither, sup with us.

He committed all his Army and all his Counsels to me.

Shun Flatterers, seeing that hidden Enemies are the worst.

If I cannot enjoy the Company of good Men, at least I'll avoid that of bad Men.

But it is necessary that he should help him.

Whether I hold my Peace or speak.

Si ex sententia hoc opus succedat, bene erit opera mea posita, sin minus ipsum in mare dejiciam.

Siquidem supplicio non afficiatur, custodiri oportebat.

Tametsi his non illi opus erat, tamen mihi non commodaret.

Cura fit ei adhibenda ne pereat.

Vel prodesse volunt vel delectare.

Enimvero perfectum est.

Verum hoc mihi moræ est.

Vir bonus equidem est, veruntamen non ita educatus ut.

Aliis nocent, ut in alios liberales sint.

Utrum horum mavis accipe.

If this Business happens according to my Desire, my Labour will be well bestowed, if not I will throw it into the Sea.

He should have been, if indeed not punished, yet secured.

Tho' he had no need of those Things, yet he would not lend me them.

Let him be taken Care of, lest he perish.

They will either profit or delight.

But it is already done.

But this Thing binds me.

He is a good Man indeed, nevertheless not so well educated as.

They hurt some, to be liberal to others.

Whether of these you had rather take.

PREPOSITIONS, which govern the Accusative Case.

Habet hortos ad Tyberim.

On this Side of Euphrates.

No body fought more valiantly against the Rebels.

So great is your Friendship towards me.

We perceive by our Senses Things that are without us.

Beneath the Moon there is nothing but what is mortal.

Let us be Friends between our selves.

He kept the Foot within the Trench.

He was buried nigh the Appian Way.

I am paid for my Folly.

It is in my Power.

He hath undone his Father by Villany.

My Wife comes behind.

Hannibal the third Day after he came, drew out his Forces for Battle.

No body thinks so besides my self.

Near that Village Hannibal pitched his Tents.

We lay down in a little Meadow hard by Plato's Statue.

ELEMENTA

SANITATIS.

EX LIBRIS MEDICIS.

PArce mero, cœnato parum, non sit tibi vanum
 Surgere post epulas: somnum fuge meridianum:
 Nec mictum retine, nec comprime fortiter anum:
 Curas tolle graves, irasci crede profanum:
 Hæc bene si serves, tu longo tempore vives.
 Si tibi deficiant Medici, Medici tibi fiant
 Hæc tria: mens hilaris, requies, moderata diæta:
 Fons, speculum, gramen; oculis dant illa levamen:
 Mane igitur montes, sub serum inquirito fontes.
 Sit brevis, aut nullus tibi somnus meridianus:
 Febres, pigrities, capitis dolor, atque catarrhus,
 Hæc tibi proveniunt ex somno meridiano.
 Ex magna cœna stomacho fit maxima pœna:
 Ut sis nocte levis, sit tibi cœna brevis.
 Perfica, poma, pyra, & lac, caseus, & caro falsa,
 Et caro cervina, & leporina, bovina, caprina;
 Atra hæc bile nocent, suntque infirmis inimica.
 Caseus est nequam, quia concoquit omnia sequamur.
 Caseus ille bonus, quem dat avara manus.
 Non Argus, largus, non Matthusalem, Madalene,
 Non Job, non Lazarus, Caseus ille bonus.
 Ova recentia, vina rubentia; pingua jura,

Cum similia pura, naturæ sunt valitura.

Regula. Presbyteri jubet hoc pro lege teneri,

Quod bona sunt ova hæc, candida, longa, nova:

Vina probantur odore, sapore, nitore, colore.

Allia, ruta, pyra, & raphanus, cum Theriaca nux,

Præstant antidotum contra lethale venenum.

Non acidum sapiat cerevisia, sit bene clara,

Ex granis sit cocta bonis, satis ac veterana.

Temporibus veris, modicum prandere juberis :

Sed calor æstatis dapibus nocet immoderatis.

Autumni fructus caveas, ne sint tibi luctus.

De mensa fume quantum vis tempore brumæ.

Salvia cum ruta faciunt tibi pocula tuta.

Lotio post mensam tibi confert munera bina ;

Mundificat palmas, & lumina reddit acuta :

Si fore vis sanus, ablue sæpe manus.

Panis non calidus, nec sit nimis inveteratus,

Sed fermentatusque, oculatus, sit bene coctus,

Et salus modice, ex granis validis electus.

Non comedas crustam, choleram quia gignit adustam.

Potus aquæ sumptus comedenti incommoda præstat :

Hinc friget stomachus crudus & inde cibus.

Vina bibant homines, animantia cætera fontes ;

Ab sit ab humano pectore potus aquæ.

Si pisces molles sunt, magno corpore tolles.

Si pisces duri, parvi sunt plus valituri.

Inter prandendum sit sæpe parumque bibendum :

Si sumas ovum, molle sit atque novum.

Lenit & humectat, solvit sine febre butyrum,

Caseus, & panis, sunt optima fercula sanis.

Si non sunt sani, tunc hunc ne jungito pani.

Caseus ante cibum confert si defluat alvus,

Si constipetur, terminet ille dapes.

Et porcina caro sine vino pejor ovina,

Si tribuas vinum, fuerit cibus ac medicina.

Post pisces nux sit, post carnes caseus adsit,

Unica nux prodest, nocet altera, tertia mors est.

Singula post ova, pocula fume nova.
 Si cerasum comedas, tibi confert grandia dona,
 Expurgat stomachum, nucleus lapidem tibi tollit:
 Hinc melior toto corpore sanguis inest.
 Frigida sunt, laxant, multum profunt tibi pruna.
 Sal primo poni debet, primeque reponi:
 Non bene mensa tibi ponitur absque sale,
 Cur moriatur homo, cui salvia crescit in horto?
 Contra vim mortis non est medicamen in hortis.
 Salvia salvatrix naturæ conciliatrix.
 Est modicum granum, ficcum calidumque sinapi
 Dat lacrymas, purgatque caput tollitque venenum.
 Post cœnam stabis, aut passus mille meabis.
 Si capitis dolor est ex potu, lymphæ bibatur;
 Ex potu nimio nam febris acuta creatur.
 Ossibus ex denis bis centenisque novenis
 Constat homo, denis bis dentibus & duodenis,
 Et ter centenis decies sex quinque venis.
 Exhilarat tristes, iratos placat amantes,
 Ne sint amentes Phlebotomia facit.

ELEMENTA

URBANITATIS,

Ex Scriptis

JOHANNIS Sulpitii VERULAMI.

QUOS docet in vita mores servare docemus,
 Virtuti ut studeas, literulisque simul.
 Quæ te igitur moneo miti puer indole serva,
 Præque tuis oculis hæc mea jussa tene.

Om-

Omnibus in rebus studeas precor esse modestus,
 Sis avidus laudis, sit tibi cura boni.
 Sis pius ac sanctus: nec non venerare parentes,
 Et noceas nulli, surripiasque nihil.
 Futilis & mendax nunquam, nec credulus esto,
 Dedecus & metuas, & reverere bonos.
 Improba pestiferi fugias commercia coetus;
 Sic honorandus eris, sic eris ipse bonus.
 Nec maledicta refer, nec promas turpia dicta;
 Est, stomachosa quidem dicere, turpe tibi.
 Segnitiam fugito, quæ vitæ commoda pellit:
 Parce gulæ turpi, luxuriamque fuge,
 Parce & avaritiæ: bilem frænare memento,
 Atque animi fastus invidiamque simul.
 Fidus sis, audensque bonis; temerarius esse
 Despice: non audax sis, timidusve nimis.
 Esto verecundus: rectum te lectus habebit;
 Detege nec socii, nec tua membra puer.
 Nec sis difficilis nimium, nimiumve severus,
 Sed bonus & blandus conspiciare puer.
 Nec penitus mutum, nec te decet esse loquacem;
 Convenit ille thoro, convenit iste foro.
 Hæc te servantem, vitæ laus spesque futuræ;
 Spernentem, turpis poenæque morsque, manent.
 Nunc faciles aures, animum quoque trade serenum.
 Morigerare mihi, mollia iussa dabo.
 Sit sine labe toga, & facies sit lauta manusque,
 Stiria nec naso pendeat ulla tuo.
 Et nihil emineant, & sint sine sordibus unguis,
 Sit coma, sit turpi calceus absque luto:
 Linguaque non rigeat, careant rubigine dentes;
 Atque palam pudeat te fricuisse caput;
 Exprimere & pulices, scabiemque urgere nocentem,
 Ne te sordidulum qui videt ista vocet.
 Seu spuis, aut mungis nares, ructasve, memento
 Post tua concussum vertere terga caput.
 Mucorem haud tangas digitis, sputumve resorbas;
 Panniculo nasum mungere nempe decet:

Munditiæque tibi placeant : medio quoque cultum.
 Utere, ne turpis, vel videare levis.
 Non sum qui laudem summo te accumbere mane,
 Judice conveniens me dabit hora cibum.
 Nec vos ante focum cœnas producite longas ;
 Esse decet vivas, vivere non ut edas.
 Nec sis vinosus, quamvis potasse Catonem
 Fama refert : fugias sumere vina mera :
 Namque cibus nimius, potus quoque, maxima poena,
 Corporis & vires ingenique rapit.
 Quod tibi vicinum fuerit, tu sume, sodali
 Cede tuo referat dum tamen ille manum.
 Nec socium torve inspicias, quidve ederit ille
 Advertas : gestus inspicere sæpe tuos.
 Deme merum cyatho (multum ni forte superfit)
 Quod nolit socius sumere forte tuns.
 Qui sapit extinguet multo cum fonte Falernum,
 Et parco lympham diluet ille mero.
 Haud facias binos haustus ; nec fessus anheles ;
 Sibila nec labiis stridula prome tuis :
 Nec cito sorbebis, velut ovi lutea grati,
 Nec nimium tarda sume Falerna mora.
 Unum five duo ad summum tria pocula sumes ;
 Si hunc numerum excedas, jam mihi potus eris.
 Os quoque tergebis semper post pocula ; palmas
 Ablue, quum mensam deseris, atque labra.
 Denique jam grates pro donis reddito Christo,
 Qui æternæ nobis præparat unus opes.

Carmina de Moribus,

AD SUOS DISCIPULOS.

QUI mihi Discipulus, Puer, es, cupis atque doceri,
 Huc ades, hæc animo concipe dicta tuo.
 Mane citus lectum fuge, mollem discute somnum,
 Templâ petas supplex, & venerare Deum:
 Attamen imprimis facies sit lota, manusque,
 Sint nitidæ vestes, comptaque cæsaries.
 Desidiam fugiens, cum te schola nostra vocarit,
 Adsis, nulla pigræ sit tibi causa moræ.
 Me Præceptorem cum videris, ore saluta,
 Et condiscipulos ordine quosque tuos.
 Tu quoque fac sedeas, ubi te sedisse jubemus;
 Inque loco, nisi sis iussus abire, mane:
 At magis ut quisque est doctrinæ munere clarus,
 Hoc magis is clara sede locandus erit.
 Scalpellum, calami, atramentum, charta, libelli,
 Sint semper studiis arma parata tuis.
 Si quid dictabo, scribes. at singula recte,
 Nec macula, aut scriptis menda sit ulla tuis.
 Sed tua nec laceris dictata, aut carmina chartis
 Mandes, quæ libris inservisse decet.

Sæpe

sæpe recognoscas tibi lecta, animoque revolvās ;

Si dubites, nunc hos consule, nunc alios.

Qui dubitat, qui sæpe rogat, mea dicta tenebit :

Is qui nil dubitat, nil capit inde boni.

Disce, puer, quæso, noli dediscere quicquam,

Ne mens te insimulet conscia desidiae ;

Hisque animo attentus ; quid enim docuisse juvabit,

Si mea non firmo pectore verba premis ?

Nil tam difficile est, quod non solertia vincat :

Invigila, & parta est gloria militiæ :

Nam veluti flores tellus, nec semina profert,

Ni sit continuo victa labore manus ;

Sic puer ingenium si non exercitet, ipsum,

Tempus & amittet, spem simul ingenii.

Est etiam semper lex in sermone tenenda,

Ne nos offendat improba garrulitas.

Incumbens studio submissa voce loqueris,

Nobis dum reddes, voce canorus eris.

Et quæcunque mihi reddes discantur ad unguem,

Singula & abjecto verbula redde libro.

Nec verbum quisquam dicturo suggerat ullum,

Quod puero exitium non mediocre parit.

Si quicquam rogit, sic respondere studebis,

Ut laudem dictis & mereare decus :

Non lingua celeri nimis, aut laudabere tarda :

Est virtus medium quod tenuisse juvat.

Et quoties loqueris, memor esto loquere latine,

Et veluti scopulos barbara verba fuge.

Præterea socios, quoties te cunque rogabunt,

Instrue, & ignaros ad mea vota trahe.

Qui docet indoctos, licet indoctissimus esset,

Ipse brevi reliquis doctior esse queat.

sed tu nec stolidos imitabere Grammaticastros,

Ingens Romani dedecus eloquii ;

Quorum tam fatuus nemo, aut tam barbarus ore est,

Quem non Authorum barbara turba probet.

Grammaticas recte si vis cognoscere leges,

Discere si cupias cultius ore loqui ;

Addifcas veterum clariffima fcripta virorum,
 Et quos Authores turba latina docet.
 Nunc te Virgilius, nunc ipfe Terentius optat, Nunc fimul amplecti te Ciceronis opus ;
 Quos qui non didicit, nil præter fomnia vidit,
 Certat & in tenebris vivere Cimmeriis.
 Sunt quos delectat (ftudio virtutis honeftæ Pofthabito) nugis tempora conterere.
 Sunt quibus eft cordi manibus pedibusque fodales,
 Aut alio quovis follicitare modo.
 Eft alius qui, fe dum clarum fanguine jactat,
 Infulfo reliquis improbat ore genus.
 Te tam prava fequi nolim veftigia morum,
 Ne tandem factis præmia digna feras.
 Nil dabis aut vendes, nil permutabis, emefve ;
 Ex damno alterius commoda nulla feres.
 Insuper & nummos irritamenta malorum
 Mitte aliis, puerum nil nifi pura decent.
 Clamor, rixa, joci, mendacia, furta, cachinni,
 Sint procul a vobis, Martis & arma procul.
 Nil penitus dices quod turpe, aut non fit honeftum
 Eft vitæ ac pariter janua lingua necis.
 Ingens crede nefas, cuiquam maledicta referre,
 Jurare aut magni numina facra Deû.
 Denique fervabis res omnes, atque libellos,
 Et tecum quoties ifque redifque feres.
 Effuge vel caufas faciunt quæcunque nocentem,
 In quibus & nobis displicuiſſe potes.

ORATIO DOMINICA, Matth. VI.

Pater noster, qui es in Cœlis, 1. Sanctificetur nomen tuum. 2. Veniat regnum tuum. 3. Fiat voluntas tua, quemadmodum in Cœlo, sic etiam in terra. 4. Panem nostrum quotidianum da nobis hodie. 5. Et remitte nobis debita nostra, sicut & nos remittimus debitoribus nostris. 6. Et ne nos inducas in tentationem, sed libera nos a malo: Quia tuum est regnum, potentia, & gloria, in secula. Amen.

SYMBOLUM APOSTOLICUM.

Credo in Deum, Patrem omnipotentem, Creatorem Cœli & Terræ. 2. Et in Jesum Christum filium ejus unigenitum, Dominum nostrum. 3. Qui conceptus est de Spiritu sancto, natus ex Maria Virgine. 4. Passus sub Pontio Pilato, crucifixus, mortuus, & sepultus, descendit ad inferna. 5. Tertio die resurrexit a mortuis. 6. Ascendit ad cœlos, sedet ad dextram Dei, Patris omnipotentis. 7. Inde venturus est judicatum vivos & mortuos. 8. Credo in Spiritum sanctum. 9. Credo sanctam Ecclesiam Catholicam, Sanctorum communionem. 10. Remissionem peccatorum. 11. Carnis resurrectionem. 12. Et vitam æternam. Amen.

DECALOGUS, five LEX DEI.

Loquutus est Deus omnia Verba hæc, Exod. XX.

EGO sum Dominus Deus tuus, qui eduxi te ex Ægypto, e domo servitutis.

I. Non habebis deos alios in conspectu meo.

II. Ne sculpas tibi simulachrum, nec ullam imaginem effingas eorum, quæ supra sunt in cælo, aut infra in terra, aut in aquis sub terra : neque incurves te illis, neque coles ea : Ego enim sum Dominus Deus tuus fortis, & zelotes, vindicans peccata patrum in filios, idque in tertiam & quartam Progeniem eorum qui oderunt me ; & misericordia utens in millesimam eorum qui diligunt me, & observant Præcepta mea.

III. Ne usurpes nomen Domini Dei tui, temere. Neque enim Dominus dimittet eum impunitum, qui nomen ejus vane usurpaverit.

IV. Memento diem Sabbathi sanctificare : Sex diebus operaberis, & facies omne opus tuum. At septimo die Sabbathum erit Domino Deo tuo. Non facies ullum opus, nec tu, nec filius tuus, nec filia tua, nec servus tuus, nec ancilla tua, nec jumentum tuum, nec advena qui est intra portas tuas. Nam sex diebus fecit Deus cælum, terram, & mare, & quæcunque in iis sunt, & requievit die septimo, ideoque benedixit diei Sabbathi, & sanctificavit eum.

V. Honora patrem tuum, & matrem tuam, ut dis vivas in terra quam tibi Dominus Deus tuus daturus est.

VI. Non occides.

VII. Non committes adulterium,

VIII. Non furaberis.

IX. Non dices contra proximum tuum falsum testimonium.

X. Non concupisces domum proximi tui, non concupisces uxorem proximi tui, nec servum ejus, nec ancillam, nec bovem, nec asinum, nec quicquam eorum quæ sunt proximi tui.

SUMMA LEGIS, Matth. XXII, 34. 35.

Pharisæi quum audivissent quod Jesus silentium imposuisset Sadducæis, congregati sunt pariter. Et interrogavit eum unus ex iis, qui erat Legisperitus, tentans eum, dicens, Præceptor noster, Quodnam præceptum maximum est in Lege? Jesus autem dixit illi, ut diligas Dominum Deum tuum ex toto corde tuo, & ex tota anima tua, & ex omni cogitatione tua. Hoc est præceptum maximum & primum. Secundum autem est simile illi: nempe, ut diligas proximum tuum sicut teipsum. Ex his duobus præceptis pendens Lex & Prophetæ.

Quæstio. Quot sunt Christianæ Ecclesiæ Sacramenta?

Responsio. Duo.

Quæst. Quæ sunt illa?

Resp. Baptismus, & sacra Coena Domini.

INSTITUTIO BAPTISMI.

Cujus hæc sunt Verba, Matth. XXVIII.

Verf. 19. 20.

ITE & docete omnes gentes, baptizantes eos, in nomine Patris, & Filii, & Spiritus sancti. Qui crediderit & baptizatus fuerit, servabitur. Qui non crediderit, condemnabitur. Et docete eos, ut custodiant quicquid mandavi vobis: Et ecce, ego vobiscum sum omnibus diebus, usque ad consummationem seculi.

Hæc promissio repetitur cum Scriptura Baptismum nominat, Lavacrum regenerationis, & absolutionem peccatorum, Matth. XXVIII, 19. Tit. III. 5. Aët. XXII. 16.

INSTITUTIO COENÆ DOMINI.

Cujus hæc sunt Verba, 1. Corinth.
Cap. XI. Vers. 23.

EGO enim accepi a Domino nostro id quod tradidi vobis. Quod Dominus noster Jesus Christus, ea nocte, qua proditus est, accepit panem, & gratis actis, fregit, ac dixit, Accipite, manducate. Hoc est Corpus meum quod pro vobis frangitur, Hoc facite ad memoriam mei. Itidem & poculum postquam cœnassent, dicendo, Hoc poculum est novum illud Fœdus per meum sanguinem. Hoc facite quotiescunque biberitis in mei recordationem: Quotiescunque enim ederitis panem hunc & poculum hoc biberitis, mortem Domini annunciabitis usque quo venerit. Itaque quisquis ederit panem vel biberit poculum Domini indigne, reus est corporis & sanguinis Domini. Probet autem quisque seipsum, & ita de pane illo edat, & de poculo illo bibat. Nam qui edit & bibit indigne, damnationem sibi ipsi edit & bibit, quia non discernit corpus Domini.

PRECES.

Peccati Confessio.

NE intres in iudicium, cum servo tuo, Domine, quia non justificabitur in conspectu tuo omnis vivens. Delicta juventutis meæ, & ignorantias meas, ne memineris, sed secundum misericordiam tuam memento mei; propter bonitatem tuam respice me, & miserere mei, quoniam Deus meus es tu.

Precatio matutina.

QUandoquidem tu, cœlestis Pater, cum in cœlis, tum in terris, unus ille omnipotens Deus, ubique gentium & locorum, es, & usque permanebis; te ex animo supplicissime precor, ne finas ut in meam, neque ut alii credentes in suam voluntatem hunc diem convertamus, neque ut ad prævum arbitrium nostrum abutamur; sed ad paternam tuam voluntatem æternumque consilium. Verbum illud tuum salatiferum tuumque beneplacitum recte intueamur, & veraci corde perficiamus, quo nomen tuum divinum, per nos miseros peccatores nunc & semper sanctificetur, per filium tuum Jesum Christum. Amen.

Precatio pro Docilitate.

AUdi preces meas, æterna Patris Sapientia: Domine Jesu Christe, qui teneræ ætati docilitatis commodum addidisti. Adde, quæso, ad naturæ propensionem, auxilium gratiæ tuæ, ut literas ac liberales scientias perdiscam, sed tuæ gloriæ servituras, quarum adminiculis adjuta mens mea plenius assequatur cognitionem tui, quem noscere felicitatis humanæ summa est; utque ad tuæ sanctissimæ pueritiæ exemplum, indies proficiam ætate, sapientia & gratia apud Deum & apud homines. Quia vivis & regnas in consortio Patris & Spiritus sancti in æterna secula. Amen. Con-

Consecratio Mensæ.

OCuli omnium in te sperant, Domine, & tu dāscam illis in tempore opportuno; Aperis tu manum tuam, & imple omne animal benedictione tua; Benedic nobis, Pater cœlestis, his bonis, quæ de tua largitate sumus sumpturi, per Jesum Christum Dominum nostrum. Amen.

Precatio alia ante Cibum.

Pater cœlestis, qui pro tua benignitate pascis omnia, neque in multis pascendis tenuior, neque in paucis copiosior es, qui nulla lege rerum teneris, effice, rogamus, ut his cibariis refecti tuam inexhaustam in Christo liberalitatem & beneficentiam recognoscamus, qui verus es, & indeficiens animæ cibus. Amen.
Pater noster, &c.

Gratiarum actio post Cibum.

Quandoquidem nos, Domine, donis tuis, omnipotens & misericors Deus, exsatiasti, effice ut posthac, quod per nos fieri aut secus velis, diligenter observemus: Atque illud animo sincero effectum præstemus, per Jesum Christum Dominum nostrum. Amen. Pater noster, &c.

A L I A.

QUI nos creavit, redemit, & pavit; Benedictus sit in æternum. Amen. Pater noster, &c.

Gratiarum actio, de profectu in Studiis, sub Vesperam dicenda, a Schola redeuntibus.

NOS tibi, benignissime Domine Jesu Christe, qui fons es & dator omnis sapientiæ, intelligentiæ, sine quo, omnia nostra studia successu carent, agimus gratias, quod mentes nostras tua gratia illuminasti, ad per-percipiendas honestas disciplinas : Da, quæsumus, ut quicquid bonarum literarum hoc die addidiscimus, fidei id quoque memoria retineamus, & in usum melioris vitæ profectus literarum imitando trahamus, ut indies pietatem honestis moribus & bonis literis foeliciter promoveamus, comparantes nobis doctrinam qua uti possimus ad gloriam tui nominis illustrandam, & utilitatem proximorum augendam, atque nostram ipsorum salutem. Amen. Pater noster, &c.

ALIA PRECATIO.

OMnipotens, iuste, & misericors Deus, ne patriæ sanctissimum nomen tuum propter peccata nostra affici contumelia, nam alioqui plus satis te benignum patrem offendimus dum verbo tuo ut par erat non obedimus : dum ignorantia, ingratitude, & murmure nostro iram tuam quotidie adversus nos concitamus, atque ita justas pœnas nobis attrahimus : Verum tamen, O Domine, miserere nostri, pro magna tua misericordia ; fac ut peccata nostra & rectius agnoscamus & magis deploremus & vitam nostram emendemus. Excita & corrobora Georgium secundum Regem populi tui Britannici, ut gladio quem ei porrexisti, ad terrorem & securitatem legitime utatur. Confirma ministros Ecclesiarum tuarum, ut fideliter ac constanter Verbum tuum doceant, & omnes officii sui partes obeant. Tueri ac defende nos ab omni dolo & perfidia, irrita fac omnia scelera, atque insidiosa consilia, quæ adversus Ecclesiam & verbum tuum capiuntur, & Spiritum sanctum tuum, ne auferas a nobis, excita in nobis veram fidem patientiam & constantiam, fer opem miseræ & afflictæ Ecclesiæ tuæ, libera eam ab omni tyrannide & ignorantia, consolare & confirma quotquot sunt anima vel corpore afflictæ. Da nobis pacem per Jesum Christum filium tuum, Dominum nostrum, qui hanc nobis indubitata de tua voluntate promissionem edidit, Amen, dico vobis, quicquid petieritis a patre in nomine meo, hæc vobis dabit, eaque fretos nos sic precari iussit. Pater noster, &c. Pre-Precatio dum itur Cubitum.

EGO tibi, omnipotens & misericors Pater, per Jesum Christum dilectum filium tuum, gratias ago, quod me hoc die per gratiam tuam custodieris: teque rogo ut mihi omnia peccata condones, quibus te hoc die offenderim. Item hac nocte mei curam gerere, & me defendere velis: Ego enim, Domine, animam ac vitam meam, in manus tuas commendo, sanctus tuus Angelus nusquam discedat a me, nequid possit in me: Satan. Amen. Pater noster, &c. Credo in Deum, &c.

Anno Bissextili Dies sunt 29 in Februario Mense, tuncque sexto Kal. Mart. bis ponitur.

R U L E S,

For finding out the Kalends, Nones, and Ides.

S E X Nonas, Maius, October, Julius, & Mars,
Quatuor at reliqui : tenet Idas quilibet octo.
Inde dies reliquos omnes dic esse Calendas.
Nomen sortiri debent a Mense sequenti.
Junius, Aprilis, Septemque, Novemque tricenos.
Unum addas reliquis, viginti Februus octo.

The Way that the Romans used to reckon the Days of their Month, was by the Kalends, Nones, and Ides. Romulus began his Months always upon the first Day of the new Moon, and was follow'd in this, by the Authors of the other Accounts, to avoid the altering of the immoveable Feasts. Therefore at every new Moon, one of the inferiour Priests used to assemble the People in the Capitol, and call over as many Days as there were between that and the Nones; And so from the old Word Calo, to call; the first of those Days had the Name of Kalendæ. But we must remember, that this Custom of Calling the Days, continued no longer than the Year of the City 450, when C. Flavius the Curule Ædile ordered the Fasti, or Kalendar, to be set up in the publick Places, that every Body might know the Difference of Times, and the Return of Festivals.

The Nones were so called, because they reckoned nine Days from them to the Ides.

The

The Ides were generally about the Middle of the Month, and then we may derive the Word from idare, an obsolete Verb, signifying to divide.

The Kalends were always fix'd to the first Day of every Month; but the Nones and the Ides, in four Months were on different Days from the other eight: For March, May, July, and October, had six Nones a Piece, the other only four. Therefore in the first, the Nones were the seventh, and the Ides the fifteenth; in the last the Nones the fifteenth, and the Ides the thirteenth.

In reckoning these, they always went backwards. Thus, January 1, was the first of the Kalends of January. December 31, Prid. Kal. Jan. December 30, the third Kal. Jan. and so on to the 13th, and that was Idus Decembris; and then the 14th Prid. Iduum Decembris, the 11th, 3. Iduum Decembris, and so on to the fifth Day, and that was Nonæ Decemb. And then again the 4th Prid. Nonarum Decemb. the third 3. Non. Decemb. the second 4. Non. Decemb. and the first Kalendæ Decembris.

We must observe, that when we meet with Kalendas, Nonas, or Idus, in the Accusative Case, the Preposition ante is always understood: As tertio Kalendas, Idus, or Nonas, is the same as tertio die ante Kal. Non. or Idus.

These Rules will plainly appear by the foregoing Table.
